Keen Interest Follows Water Warning---Alarm Is Minimized

Merion Test Made This Week Shows Water "of a Fit Quality."

BORO BEGINS SURVEY

Keen interest but general lack of alarm was the reaction to the warning issued last week by the Lower Merion Board of Health that the township's water supply had shown a dangerously high bacterial count and that boiling was necessary before it could be used with safety for drinking purposes.

A survey made this week among independent medical, health and civic organizations interested in the situation revealed:

That a test of the water supply made by the Merion Civic Association, later than the dates of those on which the Health Board issued its warning, had shown the water to be "of a fit quality."

That Narberth, which is served with the same water as Lower Merion, is planning a special investigation of the situation as a matter of precaution but declared through Dr. George A. Sloan, president of its local health board, that it saw no need for alarm.

That the State Board of Health which is kept informed on the Main Line water supply by regular reports, had found no cause to issue warning.

It was also learned that the Radnor Township Board of Health hearing of the Lower Merion had called for reports on its regular water analyses and had found these showed the supply along the upper end of the Main Line to be satisfactory. Attention was called here, however, to the fact that Radnor, while served by the same company as Lower Merion, gets its supply from the Springfield Water Basin, a source different from Lower Merion's.

The only unsympathetic note was struck by the Main Line Medical Society whose membership of 100 is made up largely of physicians residing from City Line to Paoli. Doctors in this group told of complaints which they had received from patients about bad tasting and bad smelling water, in a meeting held this week. As a group, they took no formal action, but individually many expressed confidence in the township health board and approval of its step. The situation was brought before the public when the Lower Merion Health Board following its monthly meeting last Monday issued a statement over the signature of Dr. B. K. Wilbur, its president, advising the boiling of all water against its use raw except for cooking, laundry work and similar purposes. The warning was directed against the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company whose Springfield Water is used by practically all residents of the general Main Line territory.

Woman's Club in First Meeting

Mrs. Abram Bunn Ross, of Cynwyd, will be the speaker at the opening meeting of the Woman's Community Club on Tuesday, October 16, at 2:30 P. M. The meeting will take place in the new home of the Community Club, the rear room of Elm Hall.

The meeting will be a business and organization meeting as well as the legislative meeting, which program is in charge of Mrs. E. C. Town. Mrs. J. E. Burrell is the hostess of the afternoon.

Community Club members have been invited to attend a meeting to be held at the New Century Club, 124 South Twelfth street, on Wednesday, September 17, at 2:30 o'clock, and sponsored by several woman's organizations whose subject will be the Fourteen Constitutional Amendments. The invitation is extended through Mrs. Frank Miles Day, chairman of the New Century Club. The speakers will include Mrs. G. B. V. Leitch, Mrs. Percy C. Madeira, Jr., Thomas Raeburn White, Esq., and T. von Ziekursch.

Rotarians Hear About Football From Miller

Football, ancient and modern, was the topic of the talk Tuesday before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. Albert C. Miller was the speaker. He talked, not as the insurance man, but as the "Allie" Miller of other years, brilliant star in Penn's firmament.

Football was traced from its early days in this country when the influence of Rugby was dominant. Colleges took up the sport in the '70's, the speaker said, and until 1885 no admissions were charged at the games. With the dawn of gate receipts began the day of rules and organization of the sport.

Penn had its first coach in 1890, George Woodruff, who was responsible for many innovations in the methods of play. Among these the mass formation caused so many injuries that President Roosevelt called a conference to establish a new type of game.

Since that time many changes have been made. Open field playing and forward passing have increased and the game has become highly commercialized.

"It costs $25,000 to put a good team on the field," Mr. Miller said, "and small colleges with few crowds to draw cannot make good on the investment."

HOOVER MOVIE TO BE CIVIC EVENT

Bruce Carey, Added Feature.

DATE IS FRIDAY, 19th

The motion picture show to be sponsored by the Hoover Club at Elm Hall next Friday night, October 19, is assuming the proportions of a civic occasion. The picture, "The Master of Emergencies," a film based on Will Irwin's life of Hoover is, of course, the main attraction. The picture itself is non-controversial, dealing in part with the relief work in Europe and Hoover's humanitarian enterprises.

In addition to the picture there will be singing led by Bruce Carey, with Peter Stam, Jr., at the piano. Song sheets will be distributed, so none will have any excuse for not joining in. Ushering will be done by several attractive young ladies and will be in charge of Miss Masie Simpson and Mrs. Horace Smedley.

Tickets may be procured in advance at Hoover headquarters, 100 Narberth avenue, phone Narberth 4124, or at the door. Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller is in charge of tickets and Mrs. Morton Bailey is handling the programs and advertising.

A card party and tea is being held at Hoover headquarters this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

A sample ballot containing all the amendments is on display at the headquarters and should prove enlightening to all women who are interested in the amendments. The ballot is the largest in years and study of it previous to election will speed up voting materially.

Hold Luncheon

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a luncheon in the church on Thursday, October 18, at 1 o'clock. A business meeting will follow.

D. A. R. to Meet

The regular meeting of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph R. Aiken, 406 Essex avenue, Narberth, on Saturday, October 13, at 2:30 P. M.

To Hold Bake Sale

A home bake sale will be held by the Aid Society of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Paperman's store on Haverford avenue on Saturday morning, October 20, at 10 A. M.

LARGE INCREASE IN BOOKS DRAWN

Library Figures Show Gain in Circulation of 3733
Over Last Year.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Twenty-nine thousand nine hundred and forty books were circulated at the Narberth Community Library during the past year, which figure is an increase of 3733 over last year, the librarian's report revealed at the annual meeting of the members of the Library Association held last Tuesday night.

The number of volumes now on hand at the Library numbers 6133, while the total number of users of the Library is 2280. New borrowers registered during the year number 447.

In addition to the reading of reports at the annual meeting, an election of trustees took place. Ralph S. Dunne, filling an unexpired term, was re-elected for two years, and Mrs. E. H. Cockrill, Mrs. E. K. Wood and T. C. Trotter, Jr., were re-elected for three years.

A meeting of the trustees took place after the Library Association meeting, at which officers were re-elected. They are: Miss Anna McKeag, president; Rev. Robert E. Keighton, vice president; Mrs. E. C. Drew, secretary; Mrs. C. W. Bates, treasurer; Mrs. E. K. Wood, librarian.

The librarian's report follows: The Narberth Community Library submits its report for the year ending October 1, 1928:

Number of days open during the year, 254.

Number of books on hand, 6133.

Number of books circulated in the children's department, 10,185.

Number of books circulated in the adult department, 19,755.

Total circulation, an increase of 3733 over last year, 29,940.

Number of new borrowers registered, 447.

Total registration, 2280.

These are the interesting statistics culled from the official report sent annually to the State Library at Harrisburg and to the American Library Association at Chicago.

The Library now approaches the close of the eighth year of its history, with gratitude for the fine spirit of co-operation and confidence that the community continues to show.

PRIZE CAMPAIGN OPENS THIS WEEK

Ford Coupe, G. E. Refrigerator Among Prizes to be

TRADE BOARD SPONSOR

Final plans for the prize award campaign to be conducted by the Narberth Board of Trade were concluded at a committee meeting this week and the project will be launched beginning this Saturday.

The prizes to be awarded on December 26 at the Narberth Theater will consist of the following: first prize, special Ford coupe; second prize, General Electric refrigerator; third prize, RCA radiola-console model, complete; fourth prize, $50 in gold; fifth prize, Walnut Windsor chair, and many other valuable prizes. They will be announced from store windows the same evening and published in "Our Town" on December 28.

Tickets will be given by all members of the Board of Trade, comprising practically every independent store in the borough, with every 25-cent purchase during the campaign. One-half of the ticket received with purchases should be deposited in receptacles provided in the stores and the other half retained.

The idea behind the plan is to share the profits of the season with local buyers and also to stimulate holiday shopping in the borough. The committee of the Board of Trade in charge of the campaign consists of Marios Chios, J. Bertram Nesper and Howard Catter.

BOROUGH ERASES ITS INDEBTEDNESS

Unusual Situation Effected Largely Through Early Tax Returns.

OTHER SOURCE HELPED

The indebtedness of the borough of Narberth has been wiped out through purely legitimate operations it was revealed at the October meeting of Council last Monday night at Council chamber, Elm Hall.

This almost unprecedented state of affairs was brought about in large measure through the efforts of Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold's work in collecting and turning over to the borough treasurer a check for $34,381.62 of 1928 taxes. About half of the 1928 taxes have already been collected, though the official balance to collect reads $51,159.30.

Of the 1927 Tax Duplicate all but $19.50 have been collected, which is to be transferred to the lien account. This is all that remains uncollected of a tax duplicate of over $90,000, which Council feels to be most commendable work on the part of the Tax Collector.

This paying off of the borough's indebtedness is also remarkable in view of the reduction of the tax rate, four mills, last winter. Outside sources contributed in a measure to the stroke; particularly the revenue received from the Suburban Counties Gas and Electric Company for tearing up Sabine avenue when the new main was installed last spring, and the early collection of 1928 taxes, as well as the practical wiping out of the 1927 duplicate.

Whether this erasure of the floating debt of the borough will be followed by another reduction in the tax rate is a question which naturally comes up. It is too early to predict any action of this nature and it does not seem to be on the immediate horizon since the Finance Committee is not even considering such a step.

Building operations in the borough seem to be on the up-grade, as 15 building permits were issued during the past month at a cost of $55 for operations estimated to cost $1935. Fifty-nine inspections were reported made by the building inspector, and seven operations completed.

A large scale map of the borough is to be prepared and hung

PETERS STARS AS SOUTHERN FALLS

Scores First Touchdown in 18 to 6 Win, Three Minutes After Start.

SECONDS BEGIN GAME

Edward Peters, speedy halfback from Narberth, was the spark that set off the Lower Merion High School to an 18 to 6 victory against Southern High School Saturday, at the Main Liners' field, in Ardmore. Peters never failed to make a substantial gain when given the ball, and only three minutes after the first kickoff, it was this same Edward who carried the pig-skin seven yards for the first touchdown of the game.

No matter what this junior half back may do the remainder of the season, few who sat in the stands and watched the game last Saturday afternoon will forget the way in which he knifed through the opposing line, or how the enthusiasm of the crowd quickened when they saw the big 23 on the back of his jersey burst forth from a crowd of other red jerseys and speed off down the field with enemy cleats tearing hopelessly after him. After the first quarter had been played anyone in the well-crowded bleachers who became imbued with the idea that Lower Merion needed some yardage immediately an automatically yell "Give it to Peters."

There were others on the Lower Merion team that day, even the crowd ignored the fact. The line played very well against heavier opponents, and big "Lard" Cunningham proved again that he has developed into the greatest ball hawk

MAY BURN LEAVES NOW

A blanket permit allowing the burning of leaves by borough citizens until November 15 was issued this week by Fire Chief Charles V. Noel. Ordinarily burning of leaves violates the fire regulations, but the rule is temporarily suspended to facilitate the disposal of leaves at this time of year. They must be burned in receptacles, however, and not in the street and an adult must be present when they are being disposed of.

Narberth to Be Next Host to County Firemen

The Narberth Fire Company will be host at the next regular meeting of the Montgomery County Firemen's Association on Saturday, November 3, it was decided last Saturday when the association met at the Phillie's Fire Company in Pottstown. "Fire Prevention Week" held the attention of the 40 representatives present and a four reel movie was shown on that subject. The meeting closed with a luncheon.

President Muldrew asked for more interest in the association this year. Seventy-five companies belong there and have never more than 40 at the monthly meetings.

Bryn Mawr Fire Company was represented Saturday at Pottstown by Willard Touchton, Harry Shier, Thomas Scanlon, James Murphy and Paul Giersch.

DEMOCRATS OPEN SMITH CAMPAIGN

Plan Second in Ardmore Next Week.

FINISH ORGANIZATION

The opening gun of the public campaign by Main Line Democrats for the election of the Smith-Robinson ticket was fired last night when a mass meeting was held in Moose Hall, Bryn Mawr.

This will be followed by another rally, an open-air meeting, which it is planned to hold in Ardmore next week, and by the opening in Ardmore of headquarters for the distribution of publicity for the New York Governor and his running mate.

Plans for the Bryn Mawr rally and other campaign activities were made Saturday night at the second meeting of the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic Committee held in the Merion Title and Trust Company offices in Ardmore. Invitations, issued to all interested in working for the election of Governor Smith, to be present, resulted in an attendance of nearly 50, and these so jammed the meeting room in the bank building selected for the session that it was decided to hold the third of the weekly committee sessions, scheduled for tomorrow night in a room of larger capacity.

Organization of the committee was completed at its session Saturday. Richard J. Hamilton, member of the Lower Merion School Board and Ardmore banker, was elected vice chairman; Edward F. Powers, Bryn Mawr, was made treasurer, and Charles S. Powell, Ardmore, was chosen chairman of the finance committee. The previous week Arthur

Chief to Attend

Charles V. Noel, Chief of the Narberth Fire Company, is expected to attend the annual convention of the Eastern District, International Fire Chiefs' Association, in Philadelphia, October 15-19. Plans for improving fire fighting service will be discussed by chiefs and engineers of the principal fire companies in the United States and Canada.

Plan Rummage Sale

Contributions are now being received by the Evangel Circle of King's Daughters for a rummage sale to be held Thursday, October 25. Mrs. J. T. Darlington is in charge of contributions and will see that they are called for.

BORO DRUGGIST FOUND GUILTY

Against Claude H. Crane

ASKS FOR A RETRIAL

A verdict of guilty with a recommendation of mercy was returned by the jury of the United States District Court last Thursday against Claude H. Crane, Narberth druggist, for the illegal sale of liquor.

A motion for a new trial was immediately filed by Crane's lawyer, former United States Attorney Charles D. McAvoy, of Norristown, and the defendant was released on bail.

Crane's indictment by the Grand Jury late in September followed the alleged sale of gin and whiskey to a Federal Prohibition agent in July, which subsequently resulted in his store being raided and a large amount of liquor found that his permit did not cover. His arrest and release on $1000 bail followed.

The case came up for trial on September 27, at which time Crane did not appear. Two court officers armed with a bench warrant went to the druggist's home and found him in bed. Dr. J. H. Davis, of Avon road, testified that the defendant was in no condition to go to Court.

When the case came up again for trial the following week "reputation" testimony figured prominently. Mrs. E. C. Town and Buggess Henry A. Frye, when called to the stand, stated that he defendant's pharmacy bore a bad reputation so far as liquor sales were concerned. Ernest Cozens, director of athletics at the University of Pennsylvania, and James Morrison, an official of an indemnity company, testified to Crane's good character. Two other character witnesses called, A. C. Miller and Dr. J. J. Schembs, Jr., were not present.

The evidence against Crane was supplied by the prohibition agents, whose samples had been tested by Government chemists. During the cross-examination he was asked to explain how he made his liquor, the speed with which he manufactured it proving a revelation to the court. The District Attorney, turning to the jury, said "He doesn't even sell good liquor."

The jury was out about two hours, returning with the verdict "Guilty," but with the recommendation of mercy. In light of Judge Dickinson's remarks to the panel of jurors several weeks ago, in which he said he would construe a recommendation of mercy to mean that a fine and not a jail sentence was desired by the jurors, the sentence will no doubt be a fine, unless the defendant is found not guilty in case of a new trial.

Mr. Crane's drug store, located at Narberth and Haverford avenue, was moved to its present attractive home several years ago, having been located formerly at the station. The business was purchased some years ago from the Main Line Drug Store.

Girl Scout Leaders Go West to Camp

Mrs. Herbert Hoover is the camp chief during the Girl Scout training week, September 28 to October 8, at Cheley Camp, Colo., and several Girl Scout leaders from Philadelphia and the Main Line have gone out for the training. The training week precedes the 14th National convention of Girl Scouts which will be held in Colorado Springs, Colo., October 9 to 13.

Camp Cheley is a splendid camp in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, and from all accounts everyone has enjoyed thoroughly the week so far. It is a camp with many of the comforts and at the same time plenty of the pioneer atmosphere. A separate "Adirondack Shack," which overlooks the whole valley, is being devoted to pioneer camping alone.

There are the usual courses in troop management—one for beginners and one for advanced leaders as well as a Brownie training course. Brownies are younger sisters of the Girl Scouts.

Advantages Shown in Buying from Local Stores and Shunning Peddlers

"Beware of the peddler!" is the warning which is being sounded in the borough.

At this season of the year, there are men and women, plying a house-to-house trade, selling novelties, hosiery, lingerie, and what not. Beware of them. You lose in the long run. They have no connection with the local stores at all. They are no integral part of this community in any form.

Those "bell-ringers" or peddlers or whatever form they assume come to the doors, use smooth language, display their wares, get the money, leave shoddy merchandise and then depart. In many cases they are men selling all varieties of goods. In any case the chances are they will never be seen again in the same neighborhood.

They take no part in the community's civic enterprises and contribute nothing to community welfare. They pay no taxes and take the money they collect directly out of the community. They are not interested at all in what is transpiring in the neighborhood, they choose for their temporary field of operations to make a better community or to better civic, educational or political conditions. They leave all that to the local business men. Under these circumstances, why not buy this sort of merchandise from the local trades people?

The unfair competition offered by these peddlers hits every local merchant—the merchant who has cast his lot in with that of the community and is here every day in the year, and year in and year out, for the purpose of serving the needs for its people.

Furthermore, the home merchant will give credit, if it is necessary. He will exchange the goods he sells if they are found unsatisfactory. He will strive to please and by so doing will merit continued good will and patronage.

"Let the buyer beware," is a warning honored by time and experience. And the safest way to beware is to buy from only established merchants and business people whom you know by name and reputation. The local merchant has nothing to gain and everything to lose in selling any article that is not what it is represented to be and therefore it is the safest and cheapest to buy at home from him.

Furthermore, every dollar spent with the local merchant helps to pay his rent, his taxes, his store and other living expenses and the salaries of his employees. Every dollar so spent turns over at least once before any part of it goes out of town, and leaves an indelible impress upon the economic life of the community, adding substantially to its prosperity and its wealth of every resident and to the success of every civic enterprise.

Refer to the advertisements in this issue of Our Town. There you'll find merchants, many just around the corner from you, who have just the things you want—at attractive prices. Narberth merchants advertising in this issue have made great efforts to have what you want at prices you are willing to pay.

Get out your pencil now and check off what you need and where, nearby you can get them. And when you get to these stores, you'll be amazed at their prices and at their large selection, and the ease and comfort with which you make purchases. You'll discover buying at home an easy matter, accomplished in no time.

{The new Buick is the new Style}

Nowhere such beauty and luxury ---- nowhere such pleasing lines and contours ---- nowhere Bodies that equal these new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher--The entire country is saying, "That's the Style"

Setting an entirely new, a revolutionary, style—introducing what will unquestionably be the trend of smart body-design during the next several years—the new Bodies of the Silver Anniversary Buick are enjoying universal acclaim as the most original and distinctive, as well as the finest and most beautiful ever created by the world-famous Fisher organization!

Here is not only a new car but a new vogue—a vogue of symmetry, born of gently rounded contours instead of plain straight lines—a vogue of distinction, derived from sparkling colors, brilliant chrome-plated nickel and arresting new roof, radiator and fender design—a vogue of tasteful luxury, composed of finest mohair velvet upholstery, artistic hardware and appointments of comfort and convenience not to be found in any other automobile——and the vogue is proving so popular—the motoring public welcoming it so enthusiastically—that this beautiful new Buick continues to outsell all other cars above the very lowest price field by an overwhelming margin!

The entire country is hailing the Silver Anniversary Buick. The entire country is saying, "That's the style!"

TRY FIRST AT HOME

It is true in many respects that the big Philadelphia stores carry stocks of goods that the local stores would be unable to handle.

Still much of this merchandise is nationally advertised, and costs the same everywhere.

If you buy things in Philadelphia which you could just as well have gotten at home, you have train fare as an added expense, and the time and trouble of going in town and milling around in crowds.

By shopping at the local stores first you may be surprised at the size of the stock and the quality of the goods handled.

You may also find that many prices of identical articles are lower at home, which is often the case due to lower overhead.

A large share of the purchasing of the American public is done in widely advertised brands of goods. And these can be purchased in Narberth with less waste of time, under pleasanter buying condi-

Well Established

An institution strongly entrenched in the affections of the residents of Narberth is the Community Library. This organization, approaching its eighth birthday, has proved to be more and more popular with the rank and file of citizens.

The figures quoted in the librarian's report published elsewhere in this issue show a healthy increase in the total number of books circulated and a corresponding growth in the number of new users of the Library. The Library, however, believing "a man's reach should exceed his grasp," is not content to rest on past laurels, but is striving to measure up to new standards, those set by the American Library Association for Model Town libraries in particular. To satisfy their requirements a town of 7000 population should have a circulation of 35,000 books per year, which is an increase of about 6000 for the Narberth Library to shoot at.

One of the problems facing the local organization at present is that of hours. It is the Library's desire to render the utmost service to the community and one of the chief means of so doing is to have its doors open more frequently. The problem is difficult of solution, however, when one considers it is manned entirely by volunteer workers. This is a goal which it is hoped will be reached during the ensuing year.

The interest and enthusiasm evidenced generally in the Library's work is a good sign. Dispensers of sweetness and light are all too few in the first place. And the Library's growth is a rough indication of the intellectual interests abroad in Narberth borough.

The FIRESIDE

Miss Gladys Grover, of Valley View road, Merion, is recuperating from an appendicitis operation performed this week.

Miss Elma Reese, of Hampden avenue, entertained Miss Jane Knowlton, of Glenside, last week-end.

Mr. Augustus Dinkler, of Waterbury, Conn., formerly of Narberth, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Newlin Wisner, of 210 Essex avenue.

Monroe Purse and Horace Sheneman will visit Bob Harris this week-end at Lehigh University.

Mr. Elmer H. Gillespie is a guest at the Windsor-Exeter for an indefinite stay. A former resident of Bala-Cynwyd, he returns here after five years of study in the pines of Jersey, and the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

George Bottoms, of Baird road, Merion, a graduate of the L. M. High School, is attending the Valley Forge Military Academy this year.

Mrs. Charles Becker was hostess at the card party held Wednesday in the lobby of St. Margaret's school. Every other Wednesday these parties are given, and any woman who cares to join is welcome.

Clyde Richardson, of Valley View road, Merion, will spend this week-end in Altoona.

Dr. Wray Hughes Hopkins, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Polesen and Miss Rachel Dunlop, spent an enjoyable week-end at Washington recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sheneman, of 111 Chestnut avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Sheneman, and Dr. Ernest D. Graham, at the Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge. The ceremony was performed last Saturday afternoon at 4.30, the Rev. W. Herbert Burk officiating. There were no attendants. Dr. and Mrs. Graham will live in Yardville, N. J., upon their return from a wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John Voshell and family were guests last week-end of Mr. and Mrs. George Norman Gill, of Dudley avenue.

Mrs. Sally Lowrey and her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Reese, of Hampden avenue, entertained several old friends last Thursday. Their guests were Mrs. A. C. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCrone, of Philadelphia; Mrs. G. A. Hargrave, of Harrisburg, and Mrs. R. K. Osmond, of Concordville.

Miss Eleanor Michaelson and Miss Regina Chappatte will spend this week-end in Ocean City, N. J.

Miss Kitty Jane Miller, of North Narberth avenue, entertained the members of her club last Friday. Her guests were Emily Titus, Katherine Megee, Helen Monks, Muriel White and Bobby Staley.

Mrs. R. H. Durbin returned to her home on Narberth avenue on Wednesday after a ten-day visit in Ocean City, N. J.

SHEA-NELSON

Miss Helen Shea was the maid of honor at the wedding of her brother, Dr. Paul Shea, and Miss Florence Nelson, daughter of Mr. Herbert Nelson, of Grayling avenue, which took place Wednesday evening at 5.45 in the rectory of St. Margaret's Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended, besides Miss Shea, by Mrs. W. F. Bucher as matron of honor. Mr. Francis Shea, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore a lovely gown of white satin, and carried a shower bouquet. The maid of honor wore pink taffeta, and green taffeta was worn by the matron of honor. They both carried a beautiful bouquet of dahlias. A reception for the immediate families was held afterwards at the bride's father's home.

After a motor trip through the New England States to Canada Dr. and Mrs. Shea will live in the Baird apartments.

Dr. Shea is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shea, of Dudley avenue, and is well known here as the owner and manager of his drug store on Haverford avenue.

MISS REBECCA H. NASH

Miss Rebecca H. Nash died last Tuesday after a lingering illness of four years. Burial took place Friday at North Weymouth Cemetery, Boston. She was 68 years of age at the time of her death and made her home with her nephew, Joseph H. Nash, of 146 Merion avenue.

MRS. MARGARET ANNA STROHM

Mrs. Margaret Anna Strohm, a widow, living with her son-in-law, Rev. Avery S. Demmy, at 202 North Narberth avenue, died last Friday. She was 69 years and 11 months old. Interment took place on Saturday at Shipensburg, Pa.

Local Catholics Wage

Fight on Intolerance

Declaring that religious bigotry is the result of a lack of accurate information, a group of Narberth Catholic men and women met in conference Tuesday night to devise means of increasing tolerance.

The conference voted to provide authoritative Catholic teachings and viewpoints on matters engaging public attention. Those present believe that so-called bigotry can be defeated by information, and that progress can be made in checking the spread of religious intolerance.

Speakers also declared that conditions in the present political campaign indicated very little progress in tolerance since the founding of the nation, a situation which should be changed, in view of the fundamental theory of religious liberty in the United States.

It was pointed out that the present intolerance was not peculiar to Narberth, but apparently nation-wide, and hope was expressed that the experience of this, a representative community, might aid others in arriving at a fair attitude towards religion.

The plan outlined was to address at intervals all the residents of the community under the personal auspices of the members of the conference, and to furnish literature illuminating some of the vexing questions involved. Miss Mary Greenhalgh, 208 Wayne avenue, was appointed corresponding secretary.

Weather Was Good

Varying temperatures of from 38 to 74 are reported for the week of October 1 to 7 by Charles A. Decker, Main Line co-operative weather observer. Five clear days also point to the benign character of the weather generally. Only on one day was there any rainfall and then only a precipitation of .15.

Lower Merion High News

At the usual Tuesday morning exercises at the high school this week an illustrated lecture was given on the subject "The Age of Speed." The Norton Company of Germantown, which deals in educational films, brought over the two-reel movie of modern industry.

Busses will carry the students of the senior high school to Elkins Park this afternoon to see the game between Lower Merion and Cheltenham. Three or four hundred of the boys and girls are expecting to make the trip.

W. Burns, Narberth, had been elected chairman and Daniel McDonough, Ardmore, secretary.

Groups of men and women workers for the Smith cause are being organized in all of the 13 election districts of the township and the three in the borough of Narberth. These, operating under district committeemen, will make regular reports to Vice Chairman Hamilton, who will be in charge of this phase of the campaign, assisted by Councilman Edward S. Haws, of Narberth, who will act as liaison officer between the men and women workers.

Miss Alice Riera, Ardmore, one of the volunteer workers who attended Saturday's committee session for the first time, will be in charge of organizing the Smith campaign among the women of the Main Line. She will also be responsible for the personnel to be placed in charge of Smith headquarters, which it is planned to open in Ardmore today. Mr. Powell was designated to select a site for the campaign headquarters and was planning to locate this in a store on Lancaster pike, Ardmore. Banners will be erected, and a house will be kept open throughout the day and the evening.

Further plans for manning the Ardmore headquarters, as well as arrangements for other mass meetings and a drive for financial support will be made at this week's session of the committee tomorrow night. All who are interested in the election of Governor Smith for President will be asked to contribute to the local campaign fund and a list of those who might be persuaded to do this will be turned in to Chairman Powell, of the Finance Board, by committee workers, and he in turn will send out letters of solicitation.

Arrangements for the first series of mass meetings for the Smith cause was made Saturday night. This meeting was held last night in Moose Hall, Bryn Mawr, and was under the chairmanship of George L. Brennan, of Bryn Mawr. David L. Ullman, of the staff of the Philadelphia Citizens' Committee for Smith, was the principal speaker. There were also talkers of local prominence.

Sees Gain in Switches.

The second of the mass meetings is scheduled for Ardmore and will probably be held next Saturday night. October 20. It will be an open-air affair, and arrangements for it are under the direction of Mr. Powell.

Commenting last week to his committee on the outlook for Governor Smith along the Main Line, Chairman Burns held out high hopes for gains by the Democrats in jumping party lines which will take place this year.

"I have heard a lot about Democrats who may bolt the ticket because of Governor Smith," he said, "but I have found only three old line Democrats who have told me that they will jump the traces this fall. On the other hand I have talked to scores of regular Republicans, who have assured me they will support Governor Smith. I believe the switch of Republicans along the Main Line to Smith will far outbalance the defection of old-time Democrats.

Reporting on the situation in the county at large, Edward F. Kane, of Merion, who is associated with County Democratic Leader Charles McAvoy, announced that indications in Montgomery were more favorable than they have been in years for a Democratic victory. Mr. Kane was recently elected chairman of the county Democratic Committee.

Another speaker at Saturday's meeting was Charles Carpenter, of the Philadelphia Citizens' Committee, for Smith. Talks were also given by volunteer workers who attended for the first time. One of these was Gwynn T. Shepherd, textile manufacturer of Cynwyd, who promised the committee that he would be one of the workers for Smith in his district.

Expect 100 Tomorrow.

More speakers are scheduled for the meeting tomorrow night when an attendance of over 100 is expected. The session will not be a public rally, but all who are interested enough in the Smith cause to work for it in their districts are invited to attend.

Committeemen from 11 of the 16 districts were in attendance at last week's session. In some of the districts the Democrats neglected to elect committeemen at the primary and vacancies in these will be filled by appointment.

Among the committee representatives on deck last week were Mark McNally, Haverford; Stephen Hennessy, South Ardmore; George Buckley, West Ardmore; Luke Sweeney, Pencovd; Samuel K. White, Merion; Connelly, Rosemont; Thomas A. Kerrigan, General Wayne; George L. Brennan, West Bryn Mawr; Edward Barrett, East Bryn Mawr; John M. Lynch and F. Joseph Roache, Cynwyd; John Gilroy and William Newborg, Narberth district 1; Charles S.

Powell, North Ardmore; William B. Kerrigan, East Bryn Mawr, and E. S. Haws, Narberth district 2.

Either A. W. Burns or William T. Riley will probably be appointed representatives for Narberth No. 3. A committeeman for Gladwyne is also to be chosen.

Lane Again Wins

Narberth Club Title

In the final round of the singles tournament at the Narberth Tennis Club last Sunday Harold Lane, club champion for several years, was extended to win from George McFadden, a newcomer in the club this year.

Lane, as usual, made his way to the finals with ease, while McFadden had a harder time of it, dropping a set en route to Crone. The previous day Lane dropped a match to Harold McGuffin, a player who was seen on the Narberth courts during the clay court tournament this year. Sunday found him serving with his usual power and driving vicious cross-court placements.

The start of the match resembled a walkaway, with Lane taking the first two games with comparative ease. His first service game was opened with an ace. McFadden rallied, however, to even the count at two all, only to have Lane break through again and lead at 4-2. McFadden got the next game, then Lane ran out the set at 6-3.

The second set saw McFadden off to a two-game lead. Many rallies were prolonged, furnishing some spectacular tennis. Lane then took four in a row and, after dropping another, took the eighth game of the set to establish a commanding lead of 5-3. It was not over so easily though. McFadden, playing his best tennis of the match and making many seemingly impossible gets, captured the next two games to duce the set at five all. Lane's greater accuracy and power pulled him through however, to win the next two games and the set and match, 6-3, 7-5. The champ's greater experience, ability in placing the ball and sheer power told the story.

Highway Report

The report of the Highway and Sewer Committee of Council as delivered at the October meeting of last Monday night is as follows: The summer program of street and sewer maintenance work has been completed and the winter collection of ashes and rubbish was resumed on September 24. This committee has nothing but routine matters to report and those are covered in the attached letter which the Superintendent of Public Works wrote to the chairman on October 1.

We recommend that this committee or the Borough Property Committee be authorized to ascertain and report to Council in time for incorporation in the 1929 budget the cost of procuring a large wall map of the entire borough, to be hung permanently on the wall of the Council chamber, and to contain thereon all streets, sewers, surface water drains, and other public properties and works clearly indicated thereon to scale, and so made that future similar works and properties can be added as needed.

The following amount of money was spent on borough work during the month of September:

Labor—Ash collections, $470.36; street cleaning, $414.98; street maintenance, $3.24; storm sewer, Haverford and Narberth avenues, $98.42; sick (Joe), $28.00; holiday, Labor day, $43.56; rent of roller, $14.40. Total, $223.24.

WILL STAGE THREE ALL-BREED SHOWS

Main Line Kennel Club Plans to Stage First Affair in December.

ACCEPT NEW MEMBERS

Plans for three all-breed puppy shows to be held during the winter season were made by the Main Line Kennel Club at its first fall meeting held Wednesday evening in the old Legion House on Bala avenue, Cynwyd.

The first will probably be staged in December if permission is granted by the American Kennel Club, to which application has been made for a license for the show. The other two will follow at one-month intervals and will likely be in January and February.

Definite dates for the shows will be set as soon as a letter poll now being taken among members is completed. It was decided to take this poll following discussion of the shows at the meeting.

Five new members were admitted to the club at its session. Those accepted were Mrs. E. L. Thacker, Cynwyd; Mrs. Henry Riley, Jr., Germantown; A. McKnight Sykes, Cynwyd, and Dr. Martien, Philadelphia.

Following the meeting there was a card party and refreshments.

Membership in the club is open to residents of the general Main Line territory. Candidates interested should get in touch with V. J. Spindler, of Narberth, who is the club's secretary. He recently succeeded Mrs. George C. T. Remington, of Merion.

The other officers are President and Treasurer Peter C. Barr, and Vice President William J. Foot, both of Cynwyd.

$1074.96. Material—$50.28. $172.96. Total, $223.24.

Cubic yards of ashes—523. During the month we cleaned the streets, completed the resurfacing of the Sabine avenue gas ditch at a total cost of $445.64, removed the eight-inch terra cotta pipe in storm sewer at Haverford and Narberth avenues and replaced same with 15-inch terra cotta pipe at a total cost of $98.42 for labor and $172.96 for material, collected the ashes and trash. During the week of September 17 one laborer was off sick.

We are now collecting all the papers in the small truck and the ashes and trash in the large truck. We have discontinued collecting the trash from the stores on Mondays. On Wednesdays and Saturdays we are starting our collections from the stores at 8.30 A. M. in place of 7 A. M. in order to make it possible for all stores to put their rubbish out in the morning instead of in the previous evening.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is installing new planks on the roadway and footway of the Narberth avenue bridge, which will be closed, therefore, during days of the week of October 1, but will be open each night.

The board's action was taken following submission by Dr. David W. Horn, of Bryn Mawr, its chemist, of a report which showed a radical increase in the bacterial count of the water from 3 to 54 per cent. The gain, which began the middle of July and continued through September, showed a growth per cubic centimeter in the count of from 16 to 164, which is greater than the 100 per cc. set by the board as the maximum count for water safety.

A statement deploring the warning of the township health body and assuring consumers that the product of his concern was "perfectly safe" was immediately issued by Carleton E. Davis, manager of the water company.

The first organization to make an independent investigation of its own was the Merion Civic Association, which acted through its water committee that has for chairman Dr. Edward A. Shumway, the Merion member of the Township Board of Health.

"We received a report Tuesday on tests of water samples taken Saturday and Sunday," said Dr. Shumway yesterday, "and our chemist stated that the water was of a fit quality. No organisms were found at all, but there is still some uncertainty on that part, and we are having additional tests made to check-up."

The Merion Civic Association tests, it was pointed out are more recent than those of the Health Board's which included only examinations made up to the time of the Board meeting on October 1.

Arrangements for another independent survey were made this week by the Narberth Board of Health, which planned to make a round of all the water company reservoirs beginning yesterday. Samples of the supply will be taken by Dr. George A. Sloan, head of the borough board.

"It is a very serious proposition," said Dr. Sloan, "and at any hint that there may be something wrong with the water, it is always best to boil it before using. At the present time, however, I don't think the public need be alarmed. There is no typhoid epidemic in view."

Comments on the situation this week by some physicians along the Main Line were to the effect that the Lower Merion board in making its water tests had used 1914 standards which had been revised in 1924. Statement was also made that the township board had not notified the State Board of Health of its findings, and claim was made that the State Board had given the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company a clean bill of health as having "one of the cleanest water sheds in the State."

Would Warn If Danger.

H. M. Freeburn, the State district engineer, with offices in the City Center Building, Philadelphia, refused to comment on the latter statement or any other phase of the situation. Department rules, were that all information must come from the State Health offices at Harrisburg, he explained.

"I can tell you this much," he said when his questioner refused to be put off without a statement of some sort, "that is, if the State Health Department thought your water supply not fit for public use, it would be the first to issue a warning."

The water warning and the situation it created was one of the main subjects of discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the Main Line Medical Society meeting held Monday night at the Merion Cricket Club.

"Question was raised as to whether we could not get more palatable water," said Dr. A. Lovett Dewees, of Haverford, secretary of the society. "Several members also told of complaints, which they had received from patients, who declared that the taste and the smell of the water had made them sick. The condition seemed general and the complaints universal."

"We took no formal action on the matter, however. Several of our members are also members of the Lower Merion Board of Health. We have confidence in the board and believe that it is acting to safeguard the public in the situation."

Word of the Lower Merion warning caused concern in Radnor township over its supply. As a result reports were called for this week by the Radnor Board of Health. These showed that Villanova, St. Davids, Wayne and other communities to the West of Lower Merion were receiving water which met with all requirements.

"Our samples have been good," said Dr. Lemhardt, hygienist of the Radnor Board, Wednesday, "and have met requirements of the American Public Health Association for potable water. Our bacterial counts have been running around 10 per cc. and the last test was made October 5. We have four tests in the laboratory now from samples taken on Tuesday, but expect them to show nothing unusual."

The difference in the bacterial count of the Radnor and Lower Merion water supplies, it was pointed out, was probably due to the fact that Radnor gets its supply from the Springfield Water Basin, a source different from Lower Merion's.

At the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company offices in Bryn Mawr, Manager Carleton Davis declared that practically all water consumers had placed confidence in the statement issued last week declaring the water to be good and that "very little concern has been exhibited." But nine calls were received asking about the safety of the supply, he said.

When his attention was called to complaints of bad tasting water, Mr. Davis agreed that this might have been true two weeks ago when a sudden cold snap following on the heels of warm weather caused a "turn-over," but declared that this condition has since been eliminated.

"Nothing new," was the statement this week of Dr. D. W. Horn, chemist, when asked about any further developments on the water situation from the Lower Merion Health Board angle.

in the Council chamber. This will chart all sewer mains, inlets, property lines, lots, buildings, etc., and also allow for future revision and correction.

Collections of rubbish from the stores along Haverford avenue will be made on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and will take place at 8:30 A. M., so that merchants will have time to get it out in the morning and not clutter up the public sidewalk from the previous evening.

Bids for garbage collection will be advertised for in the near future by the Water, Light and Health Committee of Council, probably for a three-year period.

FIGURES SHOW GAIN

continues to express. When the Library entered the new building two years ago the $1500 fund raised by the residents of the Borough provided sufficient furniture and equipment to satisfy the existing demands. In the two years since that time, the work had increased to such an extent that more book shelves were needed, more chairs and more lights. Once again the Trustees of the Library sent out an appeal through the columns of "Our Town" for $500 with which to buy new equipment. So generous was the response that the fund grew to $600, and the new equipment purchased with that sum is expected to meet the needs of the Library for the next few years, so far as furniture is concerned. The double stack for books, the magazine rack, the swivel chair for the children's librarian's desk, the reading chairs, the extra lights, and the bulletin boards in the children's department were all purchased with this money.

During this year the collection of reference books, and books of non-fiction has been materially increased. With the aid of the A. L. A. catalog of books recommended for small libraries and in the religious section especially assisted by the advice of the Rev. Robert E. Keighton the library feels that it now has a satisfactory representation of the books of all the classified groups.

We have to consider that as the borough expands, and as the work of the library extends its usefulness, that the problems of maintaining the library become correspondingly larger. Last year we set for ourselves the goal of measuring up to the standards of an established model town library as prepared by the A. L. A. And just as soon as we thought the goal in sight, the statistics on which we had based our figures changed and we found the goal still farther off.

Statistics for the Model Town Library are based on population, and the post office officials inform us that the population within the confines of the borough is now 7000, which means that the library should have, in order to meet the normal demands of such a public, 7000 books, and our report shows only 6100. Our circulation for the past year of about 30,000 books met the standard figures so long as we considered the population as 6000. With the new figures, we should not rest until enough people find the library useful to bring the circulation up to 35,000.

Praise and commendation come to us from all sides, and the work of the volunteer staff, and the splendid community spirit of Narberth is talked of wherever the library is mentioned. All this is very encouraging, but we have already placed ourselves in a group of which more is expected than we have yet been able to perform. A library of this size and rating should be open every day from two o'clock to six, and at least two evenings in the week. We hear very frequently of persons coming to the library only to find the door closed. The implied criticism, though never expressed, is just, and I would like to recommend very seriously that the trustees of the library make it the aim of this coming year to formulate some plan for the extension of the hours of opening.

In closing this report, too much cannot be said for the loyal, conscientious women who have given of their time for still another year to further a work with books and people, a work which is known familiarly as the Narberth Library.

ELIZABETH K. WOOD,
Librarian.

The October meeting of the Goodfellowship Club of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church will be held Thursday evening, October 18, at the home of Mr. William C. Spencer, 202 Sabine avenue, Narberth. The meeting will commence promptly at 8 P. M., and a large attendance is desired.

Light refreshments will be served.

PERMIT VIOLATION OF BUILDING CODEBut Zoning Adjustment Board Praises Civic Club for Vigilance.

Can a builder ignore the Lower Merion Zoning Ordinance and get away with it? That is the question raised by the Community Health and Civic Association of Ardmore at the September meeting of the Zoning Adjustment Board, held in the township building at Ardmore last Thursday night.

Objections were voiced by the association's representatives to the manner in which Edward P. Flannery went about constructing an enclosed stairway outside the west side of his Whitehall apartment building on Lancaster pike, Haverford. Miss Joan Wollaston, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Harrie F. Reed, Haverford, presented the letter of protest, which bore the signature of Alfred Collins Maule, secretary of the civic body.

Mr. Flannery was charged with having commenced construction of the stairway "entirely disregarding the law by doing the work without a building permit," and with "continuing further to disregard the law after having been instructed to stop work." His employees had begun the work the middle of August and no application for a permit was made until four days later when it was refused, while the work went on. The civic body explained that it had no objection to the grant of a building permit, but that it feared the zoning ordinance would not be enforced if builders were permitted to do work before securing permits.

Mr. Flannery told the board that he, a member of the Philadelphia Zoning Commission, had no intention of disregarding the Lower Merion ordinance. A permit for alterations of the Whitehall dining room had been granted in April, and his employees, thinking the original permit covered additional work, constructed in his absence the servants' stairway on the west side of the building, connecting the first floor dining room with the basement.

Community Health and Civic Association workers noted the unauthorized work, and called it to the attention of the building inspector's employees, who were working on a vacation schedule. They notified Mr. Flannery, himself only just returned, that a permit must be secured, but refused to issue one, because the work seemed contrary to provisions of the 1927 zoning ordinance. He told them he would take a chance on securing a minor exception to the law, and completed the nearly finished work.

After considering the facts, the adjustment board complimented the civic body on its vigilance, and contemplated ordering Mr. Flannery to tear down the stairway, as an example to other premature builders. But decision was finally made to grant him a special exception because the stairway as erected was found to be only a slight deviation from the zoning ordinance, and no objections to it were made by other property owners or by the civic association itself. The board took occasion to state, however, that all builders must comply with the ordinance, and secure building permits before doing any work in Lower Merion.

One other petition for a change in zoning classification was granted. It was a request by Isaac H. Clothier, Jr., for permission to construct a two-story addition to the dwelling on his property, the southeast corner of Matsonford and County Line roads, Rosemont.

Two Bala-Cynwyd appeals were considered, but action was deferred. They were by Rudolph Lukens, to construct a private dwelling on Bentley avenue west of Pembroke road, and by the Gramon Apartment Company to build private garages on the west side of Bala avenue, north of City Line.

WANT FOODSTUFFS
BETTER DISPLAYEDHealth Board Reminds Produce Merchants of State Ruling.

Decision to take Lower Merion produce merchants to task for improper display of fruit and vegetables on their stands was made by the Board of Health at its October meeting held Monday night in the township building at Ardmore.

Notices are being sent these merchants by G. C. Anderson, secretary of the board, that the State health code provides when fruit, vegetables and other food eaten uncooked is exposed for sale on sidewalks, it must be thoroughly screened and protected from flies, and must be placed on elevated stands at least 24 inches above the level of the payment.

Several complaints had been lodged with the board, particularly by Ardmore and Bala-Cynwyd residents, against condition of outdoor fruit stands maintained by some merchants in front of their stores. It was on these that the board took action.

Steps also were taken to improve the drainage situation on Park and Greenfield terraces, just off Greenfield avenue, Ardmore.

Several routine reports were read at the board meeting Monday. Plumbing Inspector Goldsmith reported 45 first inspections, 89 final and 72 partial, or a total of 206 during September. Chemist Horn submitted an analysis of 76 samples of milk, six of water, two of swimming pool water and 23 of ice cream. Report was made that nine complaints had been received during September by the board and five notices sent to abate nuisances.

Discuss Developments in Compulsory Auto Insurance

Washington, Sept. 29.—The question of compulsory automobile insurance, of interest to every motorist, has been further complicated as the result of recent developments in the Massachusetts insurance law which now appears on the verge of collapse, according to the American Motorists' Association.

The association, comprised of approximately a half-million motorists throughout the country, has "marked time" as to whether or not compulsory automobile insurance is a good or bad thing for the motorist. Along with other similar organizations and State legislatures, the organization has considered it wise to give the Massachusetts law—the first enacted—a chance to prove or disprove its feasibility. After 20 months of troubled operation, the compulsory automobile liability insurance law of that State is now facing its most critical period.

Without either endorsing or disproving the compulsory insurance idea, Mr. J. Borton Weeks, president of the association, briefly sums up as follows the present status of the Massachusetts act:

"The Massachusetts law, believed by some to be nearing a collapse, is of particular interest to motorists as well as the general public at this time since the approaching legislative season for other States has been expected to be widely productive of proposals for compulsory insurance, based more or less on the Massachusetts act. Should the law fail, it will mean a serious setback to the legislative programs in many States, while if out of the chaos a workable act can be evolved, it may prove a guiding beacon to other State legislatures.

"The outstanding conclusion at the present time is that more experience with and study of a plan for compulsory insurance is necessary before its general adoption can be determined feasible.

"To a watching and waiting audience of several million motorists and the general public, one of the first indications that the Massachusetts law might not be feasible was gleaned when the Massachusetts State Insurance Commissioner resigned on September 1.

"His resignation followed a recommendation that insurance rates must be materially increased in some cases up to as much as 100 per cent. in Boston. This recommendation for an increase in the 1929 insurance rates was blocked by the State Attorney General and Governor Fuller.

"The resigning Insurance Commissioner declared that without an increased rate it would not be possible to continue administration of the act. Following the refusal of Governor Fuller to sanction an increase in the rates, it was announced by one of the largest insurance companies in the States, that it would write no more automobile liability insurance in the State. In making known its decision to withdraw from the Massachusetts field, the insurance company declared that its net loss in 1928 on automobile insurance would be between $100,000 and $200,000 for the year.

"In tendering his resignation, the Insurance Commissioner declared that probably the principal factor working against the feasibility of compulsory insurance was the number of claims filed, which showed material increases. He cited figures showing that there are now $5,510,282 in outstanding claims from 13,531 cases yet to be adjusted, representing an average of $407.23 per claim. During the 20 months of its operation, 40,000 claims for personal injury have been filed, while the record of accidents reported show only 30,000 accidents in which persons were injured.

"Three important legislative moves are now being planned in the State as a result of the latest difficulties of the Massachusetts compulsory act. The first of these is a bill being prepared by the insurance companies to repeal the compulsory insurance law. A second plan is being sponsored by the State Treasurer, providing that all reports of settlements must be filed with the Insurance Department at the State House so that they can be open to the public. The third plan advocates a State fund to handle the insurance, the plan proposing that each motorist contribute $10 to $15 toward the fund when he registers his vehicle and out of which claims are to be paid under State supervision. In the opinion of involved State officials, insurance companies, members of the bar, automobile dealers and owners, as well as the public generally, it may be stated generally that compulsory insurance has not as yet been feasibly worked out in the State.

"Nearly everyone acknowledges that it has proved a gold mine to unscrupulous attorneys and accident fakers. This was predicted as long ago as 1926. Exorbitant claims have been the rule since the law became effective. Inasmuch as every motorist in the Bay State is insured, there is no such thing as a judgment-proof motorist, as far as personal injury or death claims are concerned. Naturally this condition of affairs is just what the ambulance-chaser seeks.

"Future compulsory insurance laws will have to take into consideration the fact that this form of protection for the dependents of automobile accident victims and the victims themselves breeds accident faking.

"Many of these State officials believe that the ultimate result in Massachusetts will be State insurance. This idea is not one to please the insurance companies, who have all along opposed compulsory automobile insurance on the ground that it would eventually result in a State fund to be administered in much the same manner as workmen's compensation funds are handled by the various States. Just how the State could be more effective in curbing accident faking and reckless driving than insurance companies have been, is problematical.

"The most significant part of the situation in Massachusetts is that it affords a clear demonstration to legislators throughout the country that compulsory automobile insurance cannot be declared as yet a success—based on the 20 months tryouts in Massachusetts. It is clear that the question is a difficult one of solution by State legislators and one of vital interest to the motorists," Mr. Weeks declared in summing up the present status of compulsory automobile insurance.

Arthur Walden Accompanies Commander Byrd on Antarctic Trip.

According to an article published in a recent number of the Saturday Evening Post, Arthur T. Walden has been chosen by Commander Byrd to accompany him on his expedition to the Antarctic regions. Mr. Walden has had considerable experience with temperatures like those he expects to encounter on the trip and in this way is well prepared to be of service. He began his training in the Yukon in 1926 and in the following year he hauled freight by dog sledge up to the Klondike, and later carried mail over the Skagway trail. In view of his prominence in connection with the Byrd expedition his latest book, "The Dog Puncher of the Yukon," recently purchased by the Narberth Library, will be of great interest.

Other books purchased during the month of September are listed below: "Silk Stocking Murders," by Berkeley.

Biggest money saving ever offered you in coal

Very exceptionally low prices

No carrying charges

50c a ton off for cash [or on bills paid within 30 days]

Don't miss this big opportunity for a real saving in your coal bill. A telephone call will prove to you how much money you can save. Don't get in a coal rut—and order through habit when you can now get the accepted quality coal—Newton Coal—for really bargain prices.

Newton Coal is the choicest Pennsylvania anthracite—clean burning and of the highest thermal quality. And when it is delivered to you it is even better than when it leaves the mines, for it is all re-cleaned and regraded in the Newton yards—an average of 70 pounds of smaller sizes and dust per ton is removed.

As an example of Newton service: If you have any heating problems at any time—if you want an impartial opinion regarding your heating plant—or advice on how to operate it most efficiently, Newton Heating Experts are at your service at all times without charge.

Newton service is of value to you—and yet it costs you nothing extra. And remember this:

Newton brought coal prices down in the spring lower than they had been for years—and they are still down. But it is the part of wisdom to order now—

AT THE THEATER

H. C. Witwer is declared to have written his peepiest story in "Alex the Great," coming to the Narberth. This story was written especially for the screen. Unlike many of his other popular magazine and screen stories it does not deal with sports, but rather with the romance of a country boy from Vermont and a fast-stepping big-city girl, the daughter of the mayor.

Norma Talmadge officially becomes a United Artist with release of her new picture, "The Dove," which comes to the Narberth Theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. In her debut as a United Artist, her role is that of Dolores Romero, a heroine of many moods.

"The Dove" has been directed by Roland West, who made "The Bat," and is known for original ideas in directing. West believes that close-ups can legitimately be used in pictures as doctors use X-rays. A doctor must clearly see the subject in whom he is interested. So the audience must be able to see just as clearly the character which is being revealed in a story.

In pictures, the close-up, according to West, should be used psychologically. It is highly inartistic to use it merely to exploit a star's prettiest moments. It is a much more precious means whereby to show the measure of the star's feelings under any set of dramatic circumstances.

Roland West declares, "I have no quarrel with the critics who object to the promiscuous employment of the close-to-the-camera action in motion pictures, but I do insist that it is impossible to tell a screen story convincingly without intimate shots of the leading players.

"Since we cannot photograph thought, we must photograph the expression of thought, and the only way we can do it effectively is by bringing the camera close to the face of the characters. Close-ups tell the audience the story; long-range photography is merely incidental.

However, the close-up is like the unusual camera angle. Unless each really means something in the development of the plot, it might as well be left out. Punctuating a picture with a hodge-podge of close-ups and trick shots is not only bad taste but silly. It is only to increase the dramatic effect that a director should use the close-up or the novel camera angle."

And Roland West, having expressed these theories, followed them in directing "The Dove."

"Street Angel," the screen version of the play by Monckton Hoffe, will be the feature at the Narberth Theater, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This picture again brings together the trimviate responsible for the successful screen translation of the John Golden stage play "7th Heaven"—Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell and Director Frank Borzage.

In this new attraction, which comes to the Narberth, the two youthful film lovers are transferred from the scenes of their first triumph in the sewers and attics of Paris to the streets and ateliers of Naples.

Miss Gaynor will be seen as a waif of the wharves who joins a small traveling circus in order to free herself from the persecution of the Neapolitan gendarmes. Farrell portrays the role of an itinerant Italian artist who, enamored by her charm, follows her about the countryside.

Director Borzage, who is of Italian parentage, has long been a student of Latin manners and customs, but despite his life-long familiarity with the theme of "Street Angel," he spent many weeks in and about Naples, while vacationing in Europe last year, gathering data and atmosphere which was to aid him in bringing the story to the screen.

Would you sell it at the old figure?

If your property is under-insured and it should burn tomorrow, the amount you receive would be considerably less than the amount you now worth. Wouldn't it be just like selling your home at the old value?

McKenty Holds Bryn Mawr to Four Hits, Winning Third Straight.

WAS SEASON'S LAST

By John Uberty.

Heaving like a human catapult, William W. (Rube) McKenty, erstwhile Boston and Harrowgate moundsman, won his third consecutive victory by swamping the champions of the first half by the Woolworth count of 10-5. Facing Nick Lyons, juvenile Lower Merion pitcher, defeated boxman of the previous encounter of August 24 when Zip Long took to the hill, McKenty, that same imperturbable and immaculate dispenser of fireballs, proved just as mystifying to the Bryn Mawr clan as he did to that dangerous company of nine men from the West on two occasions. One hundred and fifty-eight crooked balls and curves left the inimitable arm of the undaunted Rube; one hundred and fifty-eight heaves that sent twelve sturdy batsmen to the bench via the strikeout device, that same number of poisonous fireballs that spelled defeat to the strong band of Bryn Mawrites.

Every man of the Narberth Club averaged at least two hits off the frail but by no means ignominious Lyons. Sullivan, Gillfillan and Lindsay led with three nicks each, while Carter and McKenty garnered the scholastic star for two; Gaul, replacing Gillespie at the plate, being the only star to be jilted of a bingle. The valiant Nick was stormed for seventeen hits by the Ruthian men of Narberth as compared to four of the veteran.

Never before during the 1928 season did a hillman receive more jeers and boos than the local denizen of the tee was handed on Saturday, but with that same smile that engrossed his features when he flung devastating pellets at men of the major and minor leagues the lads of the Bryn Mawr band were merely jocular performers. McKenty held the tourists to one hit up until the seventh, but three more counters in the closing sessions, one a home run blow, tallied four for the garrulous representatives of Bryn Mawr. Indeed, they were the image of the Rock of Gibraltar; one big bluff.

The Bryn Mawrites were victims of imminent jeopardy throughout the entire fracas with the rare exception of the first few innings, when a few erratic plays on the part of the Narberth team enabled the rivals to score two pointers. Sullivan, the double-play expert who was credited with three assists for the game, and Gillfillan, the ashen assassin of the day, were the big guns who aided materially in the one-sided defeat of the first half champions.

The invaders were given first opportunity to crash the pellet in the opener, but the infallible "Rube" sent merely nine heaves across the pentagon to subdue McCain's mob. Nick Lyons, young and game as they make them, who possessed in pluck what he lacked in experience, was extended to twenty twirls in the home half as the Walzermen scored twice that they might secure a firm foothold in the scrolls of the scorebook. After Nick had checked the possibilities of the leadoff men, Jeffries and Sullivan, George Babb dropped a well-placed looper into right field and Nick Carter clouted Lyon's fast ball far into the green in right. Humphries followed with a walk, filling the pathways, and Gillfillan sent out an easy pop to short center, but the sun shining brightly into the optics of the second baseman and shortstop jilted the rivals of checking the two runs which crossed the plate in the meantime, Babb and Carter counting. Lindsay was retired via the chuckout device, Bradley to McKamney. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Both teams went scoreless in the second, although McKenty was forced to extend himself in checking the rivals for the sacks had become clogged with enthusiastic base runners and only the generalship of the "Rube" extricated him from this unbecoming position. It took only five throws to head off the progressing home talent compared to thirty-four from the titanic paws of McKenty in that inning.

The score was knotted in the third as the visitors sent two men across and brought the loyal rooters to a perpendicular whooping, but from then on a machine gun barrage swept the tourists off their feet. Curvan walked and McKamney reached first from McKenty's error. Slater sacrificed the two runners to third and second, respectively, and J. Curvan passed a called ball, which was too hot for Gaul to handle, and Curvan crept home. J. Curvan strolled and McCahon passed another which Gaul threw wild to Lindsay attempting to head off J. Curvan, McKamney scoring on the overthrow. Twice in succession McKenty hit McCahon and Gane, who filled the lanes again. Bradley tallied the third out. Two runs, one hit, one error.

The bombastic bats of the champions accelerated with diabolical vivacity in the fourth period and with the exception of the sixth the elongated Lyons was incessantly hovering on the brink of disaster, and new slinger was sent to warm up. McKenty singled and purloined second on McKamney's fumble and Jeffries doubled to the highway, McKenty scoring. Sullivan performed Jeff's feat to centerfield and Babb took his base when Lyon's wild toss nicked him on the dome. Carter sent out a vicious bouncer to center, shipping in Sullivan and simultaneously promoting Babb to third. Despite Carter's steal to second, Humphries failed to force in any more counters that inning. Gillfillan crashed a terrific double to deep center in the following inning and Lindsay was nipped at third when he attempted to stretch an ordinary two-bagger. Gaul and McKenty were retired on flies.

The Walzermen counted twice in the seventh and eighth while the Bryn Mawrites rallied in vain with one in the eighth and two in the terminating frame. The "Rube" had eleven strikeouts to his credit as compared to four of his rival ace when they took to their mound in the seventh. With two on the sidelines, Roger hit to center for a one-bagger and Gaul passed a called strike as Lindsay made his way to the keystone coign. Gaul strolled and the "Rube" sent out a single, stole second and immediately crept over to third unmolested while Gaul and Roger skipped home.

McKamney retired Jeffries unassisted. Playing with the perfection and tick of a watch, the locals continued on their merry rampage and the crowd began to disperse when victory seemed imminent. Sullivan singled along the ribbon in left and Georgie ditted while Sullivan was forced out on second in an attempted double play. Carter skied to the right wing and Humphries strolled. Gilly smashed Nick's speed ball for a one-bagger, shipping in Babb. Lindsay popped to McCahon, but the ball jostled out of his hands and Humphries hurried over the plate. Gaul was thrown out, Lyons to McKamney.

A few odd substitutes were given an opportunity to share the honor of performing in a titular play as Welzel delegated Durbin, Mulligan, Blessing and Martin to wield for the regulars, who were somewhat fatigued from their incessant pounding of Lyon's offerings and recorded mileage of the bags. Having eliminated two locals, Lyons faced the veteran Durbin in the ninth frame. Pincchitting for Sullivan, Bill hit the first heave for a single and Mulligan, waving Babb's stick, was passed intentionally. Blessing was the third man up, but proved most unfortunate of the aggregation as he missed three in a row.

A homeric blow with one man on in the ninth proved fruitless to the invader, as McKamney sent McKenty's crooked twirl far out into the green in center, but the fray was won and the "Rube" smiled on.

PETERS STARS

that Ardmore team has had in years. If there is a loose ball on the field this boy "Lard" is hovering right over it singing, "Yes sir, she's mah baby." He took possession of three such in the game last week, and two or three in the first game against Berwyn.

Start Early Offensive

Coach Adam sent his second eleven on the field to start the game and after kicking off Lower Merion took Southern's punt back to mid-field. There, Peters, Cave, Everhart and McLaughlin started an offensive that reached the two yard line in less than a couple of minutes. Here Cave fumbled the ball and Southern recovered and kicked out of immediate danger, but it didn't take Peters long to bring the oval back down the field again. In three plays he had the sphere over the goal line and Lower Merion had six points. Cave missed the drop-kick for extra point after touchdown and Southern kicked off.

This situation changed little while the second team was in the game, though this ambitious squad put up a scrappy, peppy and well organized exhibition of football. At the end of the first quarter they turned over the ball to the first string men who did not have more than 30 yards to go to carry it over for another touchdown.

The varsity's efforts in doing so were not so spectacular as were those of the starting eleven. After an exchange of punts and a couple of fumbles on each side, Al. Mandis was given the ball on the five yard line and he twisted over or the seond score. Elmore missed the try for extra point also, his kick going wide of the posts.

With the score 12 to nothing against it, Southern received and then followed an unusual and spectacular play. D'Amora's boot went 40 yards to Left Tackle Zuber, who fumbled the ball momentarily, but recovered and started wobbling down the center of the field. He continued his wobbling for 80 yards without a Lower Merion player so much as touching him. This was all the more strange considering the fact the runner is comparatively slow, being almost as broad as he is high. This beautiful run was followed by a perfect place-kick for the extra point by Fullback Intelli, making the score Lower Merion 12, Southern 7.

Captain Elmore decided this was not a time for ease and comfort; so he whipped his teammates into an offensive march that stopped a few minutes later at half-time with Lower Merion only five yards to go for its third touchdown.

Coach Adam started the second half with his four best bets in the backfield, namely, Peters, E. Mandes, Kohlas and Elmore. These began to function on all cylinders and before the third period was over they had carried the ball close enough for Ernie Mandes to score the third Lower Merion touchdown of the game.

After that the Maroon and White seemed to take it more or less easy for awhile as Southern got off a pass or two which carried the play into Lower Merion territory for a change. After a few minutes of this, however, the Adamites braced and as the final whistle blew L. M. had the ball again and Peters and Mandes were tearing off huge gains.

Coach Adam is working on a new play or two for the game against Cheltenham today at Elkins Park. During the past week the squad has practiced the new plays and seem to be working them successfully. Scrimmages were held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

Keth Parks, the boy who called signals for the second team at Downingtown a week ago, has been moved up to the first squad. He fits in fine in the varsity backfield and is calling signals as substitute for Elmore. The game with Cheltenham will begin at 3 o'clock.

Exhibit at Dahlia Show

In 28 classes out of 105 both flower and vegetable, from dahlias and zinnias to Swiss chard and rutabagas first prizes were won by Samuel M. Vauclain, of Rosemont, at the Dahlia Show held on Tuesday and Wednesday under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society at 1600 Arch street, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Horatio G. Lloyd, of Haverford, was also a winner, taking a first prize for an "artistic vase of 12 dahlias." Another exhibitor was Mrs. C. Frederick C. Stout, of Ardmore.

Several residents of the Main Line were on the committee in charge of the exhibit. Among them were: Mrs. William S. Ellis and Mrs. Robert H. Page, of Bryn Mawr; Mrs. Richard L. Barrows, Mrs. Clarence A. Warden and Mrs. Horatio G. Lloyd, all of Haverford; Mrs. Fitz Eugene Newbold, Devon; John Williams, chairman; Mrs. Morris W. Stroud, Jr., Villanova; Mrs. Burrows Sloan and Mrs. William E. Elliott, of Ardmore; Miss Evelina C. Walbaum, Ithan; Samuel M. Vauclain, of Rosemont, and Mrs. David E. Williams, Bala.

COMMUNITY CLUB OPENS ITS SEASON

First Meeting Held in New Quarters in Elm
Hall.

MRS. ROSS SPEAKER

The get-together and organization meeting of the Women's Community Club, held Tuesday afternoon in their new quarters in the rear room at Elm Hall, was attended by about 80 members and it would seem that a year of forward looking plans and progress is an assured thing. Every chairman who outlined her plans for work, programs or classes had something worth while to offer, while of especial interest were the classes in creative reading and the Melody Way classes in musical instruction.

Miss Runyon, delegate to the thirty-third State convention of Pennsylvania women at Lancaster, gave a fine report of the convention. She asked that State President Mrs. Frick's appeal to make this a 100 per cent. registration of Pennsylvania club women this year be carried out so that there may be a more intelligent vote. The whole colorful meetings of these 800 women, representing the 70,000 federated club women of the State, were brought to the notice of the women; from the presentation of the red rose of Lancaster at the first meeting to the last resolution passed by the convention and the outstanding work of every department.

Mrs. Abram Bunn Ross, Montgomery county president, gave the talk of the afternoon on the State Bond Issue which comes before the voters on November 6. She stressed especially the Welfare Bond Issue saying that the State institutions are in need of a definite settled policy as no one without such a policy can plan for the future. As Mr. Owen Roberts said in his address on that subject, "So many institutions for welfare in the State have been started with great hope and then never completed, that a bond issue covering at least 10 years would be a great help in carrying out plans." Former Governor Pinchot's address on the forestry bond need was quoted.

He said nine-tenths of the lumber has to be imported into the State and that there are only two States in the Union who can now afford to export lumber. This bond he affirms will eventually not cost the State a cent, but will be self-supporting if reforestation is carried out as it should be on a large scale. Beside the several bond issues, Mrs. Ross mentioned the mental examination for convicts, protection of adolescent delinquents and the fact that the State is now living within its budget and that the per capita debt is below the surrounding States.

She stated that a voting machine will save 27 per cent. of the expense at every election and will

October Warm Wave Breaks Two High Marks

Previous temperature records for October 12 and 13 were broken last week when the thermometer soared to new heights for these dates. On the first day, Thursday, the mercury climbed to 84 degrees, according to Main Line Weatherman Charles Decker at Narberth, while on the second it went still one degree higher to hit the mark of 85.

Unseasonable heat which began last Wednesday grew during the week and was largely responsible for a temperature excess of 21 degrees which has been recorded by Mr. Decker's instruments since October 1. No check was given to the warm spell as every day but two, Tuesday and Wednesday, were clear and no rain, not even the smallest hundredth of a per cent., was recorded for the entire week. There was a perfect record of zero in precipitation for the seven days beginning last Sunday, October 8.

The high and low temperatures for each day of the week were: Sunday, 66 degrees and 41; Monday, 75 and 49; Tuesday, 68 and 46; Wednesday, 75 and 44; Thursday, 84 and 51; Friday, 85 and 57; Saturday, 74 and 45.

Graf Zeppelin Brings Letters and Cards to Residents From Germany

Over 100 pieces of mail postmarked "Friedrichshafen" and New York, carried by the Graf Zeppelin, were delivered in the borough this week. Those favored thus include several stamp collectors and sweethearts of German youths. Some of the former are Richard Stites, Ralph McGuffin, Sunny Speed and Charles Safberg.

All the Zeppelin mail was stamped "Luft Post" and "ZR 127." The stamps themselves, about the size of our special delivery stamps, are light blue and bear the design of a dirigible in flight over the ocean between two continents.

The rates for this unique postal service were not high in view of the limited quantity of mail carried. Postcards were sent for two marks, while letters cost four marks.

Mail may be sent via the Zeppelin on its return journey to Friedrichshafen, but the following regulations as given out by the local post office should be observed. Letters or cards should be inclosed in separate envelopes and addressed to the postmaster, New York City. A money order for the amount of the stamps should be inclosed. The return rates are 50 cents for postcards and $1 for letters.

As the Zeppelin floated slowly over Philadelphia it was not without observers from the borough. The roof of Smedley's office proved an excellent vantage ground and many merchants and citizens in the vicinity were not slow to avail themselves of it. A fine view of the great ship was to be had, although it was at least seven miles distant, its immense bulk being easily discernible through the trees.

IRWIN FILM WILL BE SHOWN TONIGHT

"Master of Emergencies" Is Feature on Program
at Elm Hall.

MANY PATRONESSES

Elm Hall this evening will be the scene of an enthusiastic Hoover gathering when the movie, "The Master of Emergencies," gets its premier in these parts. The picture, based on Will Irwin's life of Hoover, has been exhibited to large audiences at the Atlantic Building in Philadelphia. The National Committee of Engineers for Hoover is the sponsor for the film.

Two performances will be given tonight at 7 and 9 o'clock. Community singing led by Bruce Carey with Peter Stam, Jr., at the piano, will be an additional feature of the evening. Ushering in is in charge of Miss Masie Simpson and her corps of young ladies. Tickets may be procured in advance at the Hoover headquarters, 100 North Narberth avenue, or at the door. It is rumored that there will be a speaker at the affair who is a personal friend of Hoover.

A radio will be installed in the Hoover headquarters on election day to get the returns, through the courtesy of the Narberth Electric Shop.

Contributions to the Hoover campaign fund will be gratefully received at the headquarters, or checks may be sent to Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller.

Recreation Club to Open

Main Line residents who enjoy the pastime of heaving a ball down the bowling alleys and those who prefer the gentler technique of making caroms over the green-baize covered tables may now indulge their desires. On Wednesday night, October 17, the Ardmore Recreation Club held its official opening.

The club has taken the entire upstairs of buildings numbering 49 to 61 West Lancaster avenue. There will be 10 bowling alleys and six billiard tables of the most modern type. Among the appointments will be the men's and women's lounging and locker rooms furnished in comfortable overstuffed chairs and divans.

The feature of the opening was the presence of Knoz and Murgie, Philadelphia's leading bowlers, who played some local bowler.

These alleys are the ones which are to be used by the Interchurch Bowling League of the borough in their weekly matches.

The Ardmore Recreation Club is owned by Mr. Edwin Holland, who has secured the services of Mr. Donald Haig for manager.

Joseph J. Skelton, Sr., Bala-Cynwyd coal dealer, was speaker at the meeting Tuesday of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

Narberth Club.

GILFILLAN VALUABLE

Statistics for the forty-three games played this season by the Narberth baseball club show twenty-eight victories for an average of .651. While playing independent ball, the home talent have turned back eighteen teams in twenty-eight contests for an average of .650, which goes to show that independent ball was progressing very nicely up to the time of entering the League. In twilight games alone after the Walzermen went into the League, the wins and defeats were even at three each for a .500 mark.

Prior to associating with their Main Line rivals, the local were playing .640 ball, as is seen from their sixteen triumphs out of twenty-five combats. Figures for League competition show that the locals have trimmed seven teams out of nine frays, which registers an enviable .778, a mark which may remain untouched on the scrolls of local baseballdom.

In individual performances Johnny Gillespie, all-around athlete at Villanova and star mascot of the Narberth Ball Club, led the fence busters on their way to the title during the 1928 season, according to Manager Walzer, pilot of the team. Johnny led the regulars with an average of .379, while Bob Martin, substitute on nine occasions, was credited with an excellent but not phenomenal record of .500.

Walters Maasters, pitching pride of the home talent, followed with a score of .370, with Babb, Humphries and Mulligan following closely.

Robert (Bob) Gilfillan, that quiet and unassuming player, stands out as one of the most useful elements of the 1928 champions, aiding materially in the local's battle for baseballdom. A picturesque figure on first base and a whirlwind sensation at short, not to mention anything of his tremendous prowess with the bluegeon. Bob has constantly been the nemesis of many a hard-clouted drive, intended for the highway. Like his pilot, Gilly possesses the attributes of a true sportsman; an urbane youngster, he is a future prospect in the ranks of the major leagues.

John Ott, Cynwyd Pioneer and Civil War Veteran, Dies, Age 85

Lower Merion's remnant of the Grand Army of the Republic lost one of its number early Monday morning when John L. Ott, one-time farm hand, milk dealer, realtor, horse fancier and beloved old resident, died after a long illness at his home, 466 State road, Cynwyd. He was 85 years old. The last of his line, he is survived only by his widow.

Funeral services were held at 2 P. M. yesterday at the late home, and were conducted by Mr. Ott's pastor, Dr. Henry A. F. Hoyt, rector emeritus of St. John's Church, Cynwyd, himself a civil war veteran. Friends were permitted to call

DRAW JURORS FOR NOVEMBER COURT

32 From Township and Nine
From Narberth Listed
for Duty.

TERM TO BEGIN NOV. 12

Forty-one from the Main Line are among the 324 voters of the county at large drawn for jury duty at the November term of Criminal Court which begins at Norristown November 12. Nine of this number are from Narberth; 32 from Lower Merion.

Included among those drawn are Edward C. Griswold, former president of Narberth Council and present borough real estate assessor; Miss Blanche Meeser, General Wayne, member of the Lower Merion Health Board; Mary S. C. Woolman, wife of Henry Newbold Woolman, Haverford, donor of the Valley Forge site to the University of Pennsylvania; Miss Dorothea Fox, Cynwyd, harpist, and Ella L. Hammonds, Republican committeewoman from Bryn Mawr.

The Criminal Court is scheduled for a three-week sitting and will commence one week after the session of the Grand Jury which is listed for November 5. Jurors drawn from the Main Line and the time they will serve are:

Week of November 12: Gertrude Anders, Jacob Blasband, Anna Crawford, Mary Davis, Raymond F. Guernsey, Alice Huber, Roy Haley, Helen R. Liggett, Sidney Wood, of Lower Merion, and Emma Sompton, Edward C. Griswold, Sadie M. Jones, J. Frazier Purse, Agnes M. Rose, Lily H. Trotter, Claudia Van Ness, of Narberth.

Week of November 19: Catherine Aylor, James F. Barrett, Jr., James Connor, D. F. Everhart, Emma Frazier, Ella L. Hammonds, Louis C. O. Lussan, Gilbert Moore, Thomas Moran, Juliette MacClelland, Warren C. Supplee, Sara Shupert, Ethel M. Stanger, of Lower Merion, and Catherine M. Woods, of Narberth.

Week of November 26: John Binkin, Margaret Casey, Martin Connors, Dorothea Fox, Stella Gardner, Margaret Latch, Blanche Meeser, L. M. Sacrey, John Tuttle, Mary S. C. Woolman, of Lower Merion, and Anna MacKeag, of Narberth.

Post Plans Big

Armistice Banquet

Plans are going rapidly ahead for the American Legion Armistice day banquet which is to be held on Monday night, November 12, inasmuch as Armistice day this year falls on Sunday.

Prospects look promising for the biggest banquet ever staged by the Harold D. Speakman Post, and if present plans go through, either a major general or a United States Senator will be the speaker of the evening.

The affair will in all probability be held in the Legion room of the Community Building, except in case of an exceptionally large crowd, in which case efforts will be made to procure Elm Hall for the evening.

Commander W. Russell Green expects to have final announcements of speakers by next week. Tickets for the banquet are in the hands of William H. Durbin, and will be placed on sale soon. Reservations may now be made with him, however.

L. M. Health Board May End
Controversy at Special Session Monday.

CLEAN BILL IN RADNOR

Practically no new developments were forthcoming this week in the "water situation" created here two weeks ago when the Lower Merion Board of Health issued a statement urging township residents to boil their drinking water. The warning was given following tests which it was declared showed an unusually high bacterial count for the product of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company, which serves Lower Merion, Narberth and the general Main Line territory.

A survey conducted last week among independent civic, health and medical organizations, some of which had made chemical analyses of their own, brought announcements that there was no need for alarm. Continued reassurances were forthcoming this week—not so much by direct statement or action as by the lack of it.

Further analysis of the supply was made last week by a chemist for the water committee of the Merion Civic Association of which Dr. Edward A. Shumway, Merion, member of the township health board, is chairman. Continued analyses have also been made by Dr. David W. Horn, chemist of the Lower Merion Board. By neither of these were warnings issued as would undoubtedly have been done had a dangerous condition been discovered. Therefore, as one official declared, "it may be presumed that there has been an improvement in the condition of the water."

Be Gold on Blue

Gold numbers on a blue background will be the color scheme of the 1929 Pennsylvania motor license plates. New Jersey's will be white on a dark gray background. Delaware's will be dark blue on old gold. Maryland will be white on dark green and New York will be black on yellow, almost an exact duplicate of the Pennsylvania 1928 plate.

Thirty-nine States will change the color combination for automobile license in 1929 and 23 different motifs will be used, according to E. W. Tallman, general manager of the Automobile Club of Philadelphia.

There is a decided trend toward darker colors, it is revealed, and the "brunette" in license plates has gained a small lead over the "blonde." Although varied hues will be represented in the color schemes nine States and the District of Columbia will retain last year's color combination, reversing them as to background and lettering. No single color motif can be said to prevail, although six States and the District of Columbia will use yellow letters and numerals on a black background. This color scheme will therefore predominate in 1929, taking rank over the black and white motif which was used in five States in 1928.

Second honor will go to the orange on black combination, which will be used in five States, as compared to four last year. Four States will use a combination of white on black and the same number have adopted white on green.

Between and between will be found the color schemes of sister States, with Tulodian red on cream yellow, black on aluminum and a variety of other hues represented in the identification of the units in the nation's transportation system on rubber tires.

Meet at Norristown

The attention of the League of Women Voters of Narberth is called to the annual meeting to be held in the Valley Forge Hotel, Norristown, on Friday, October 26, at 10 A. M. The speakers are Mrs. Vernon Kellogg, who was associated with Herbert Hoover in relief work in Belgium, for the Republican side; the Democratic side will be presented by Mrs. Daniel O'Day, who accompanied Governor Smith on his recent Western campaign trip. William Snader will speak on the 14 amendments.

DEMOCRATS HOLD RALLIES; PLAN MORE

Meeting at Township Building Okehed—Parade to Start It.

OPEN UP IN ARDMORE

Increased activity by Democrats and others interested in the cause of Governor Smith is being shown here as the Presidential campaign swings into its final few weeks.

Two mass meetings were held last week in Bryn Mawr; two more are being planned, one for Ardmore; the other for Cynwyd, and the Ardmore affair will be preceded by a street parade. In addition there probably will be headquarters for the distribution of publicity in three communities along the Main Line. One of these was opened in Ardmore this week.

Most of these activities are under the direction of the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic Committee which is holding weekly meetings. This committee, at its third session held Saturday night in the old Merion Title Building on Lancaster pike, Ardmore, made plans for its next rally, an open-air affair, which will be held in Ardmore probably next Friday evening.

Charles S. Powell, made chairman of a sub-committee to arrange for this meeting, secured permission Wednesday night from the Lower Merion Commissioners to stage the affair on the plaza in front of the township building on Lancaster pike, Ardmore. There will be speakers of local prominence aided by ones from the Philadelphia Citizens' Committee for Smith. An old-time political street parade with brass band 'n everything, will precede the meeting.

Arrangements for another rally, this one to be held in Cynwyd, were discussed Saturday night at the suggestion of Gwynn T. Shepperd, Cynwyd, one of the volunteer workers for Smith, member of the Democratic committee. Efforts will be made to secure Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, as speaker for this, and tentative plans call for staging the affair at the Egyptian Theater.

Definite date for the rally has not yet been set. This and other arrangements were placed in the hands of a group headed by Edward F. Kane, Merion, chairman of the Montgomery County Democratic Committee. He will be aided by Mr. Shepperd and John M. Lynch, also of Cynwyd.

New Girl Scout

Headquarters Open

The newly opened Main Line Girl Scout office at 25 East Athens avenue, Ardmore, is finding more and more "business" to attend to. As a consequence, the Girl Scout Main Line Committee which is sponsoring it, is very gratified, and feels that the scouts of the Main Line are on the threshold of a bigger and broader usefulness in the community.

The office is in charge of Miss Jane Newhall, field captain, who is ready and eager at all times to organize girl scout troops in the district, help those that are already organized, train leaders and give out information.

It is hoped that the number of troops now registered—sixteen—may be doubled in a short time. Leaders for this are needed, and all those who are over 18 and interested in girls and the out-of-doors are asked to communicate with Miss Newhall at Ardmore 350. Training classes are beginning at regular intervals. It is a most fascinating hobby, according to those who have tried it. At the same time splendid future citizens are being formed. Girl scouting aims to aid the home and the school to build for the future in the leisure hours.

Classes in preparation for First Class badges will be held by Miss Newhall once a month, beginning at an early date.

To Hold Dance

The Fellowship of All Saints' Church, Wynnewood, are having a masked dance on October 26, 1928, from 9 to 1. Dick Murphy's orchestra has been secured. The subscription is $1 per couple.

AT THE THEATER

A number of technical departures, introduced into "Street Angel" by Director Frank Borzage, will be observed when this new Fox picture co-featuring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell is seen at the Narberth Theater, where it opened last night. Various problems in photography had to be met.

The technical treatment suggested itself to Borzage from the nature of the story, which is based on a play by Monckton Hoffe. The narrative centers about a little Italian street waif forced to flee from the police and take refuge with a traveling circus, where she meets with a wandering painter and proves his artistic inspiration.

Its locale is Naples and environs. Since Naples is a city of towering houses and dim courtyards, this put the thought into Borzage's mind of photographing much of the picture in a twilight state of illumination. He and his cameraman had to take particular pains in achieving this subdued effect they would not at the same time blot out the features of Miss Gaynor and Farrell. Their aim was toward an almost contradictory mingling of obscurity and clarity, with high lights and silhouettes to bring out the features, without making them too sharp.

Moreover, as Naples is a seaside city, and much of the action of the picture took place along the waterfront, the logical step was to introduce mist effects into the picture. Borzage made frequent use of this opportunity, swathing many of the scenes heavily in vapor, with ships and twinkling mooring lights showing through.

Here again he was confronted with the same problem as when he shot his dim scenes. He had to keep his players from being smothered in the fog, while at the same time maintaining a thick enough haze so that it would not look like the feeble wisps of smoke pots which so often pass for mist in motion pictures. Despite many difficulties Borzage stuck to his plan, because he felt that the softened photographic effects would suit the pensive mood of many of the scenes.

Historical dramas produced on the screen not only provide delightful entertainment, but refresh one's knowledge of important incidents of an era long past, according to Conrad Nagel, who plays the male lead with Dolores Costello in her latest starring vehicle, "Glorious Betsy."

Nagel plays the role of Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, who marries Betsy Patterson, the "Belle of Baltimore," during an incognito visit to the United States.

Probably few people recall that Napoleon's brother Jerome actually did visit the United States or that he married an American girl.

It is around this incident which became a chapter in both French and American history that the story, "Glorious Betsy," was written by Anthony Coldway based upon the play by Rida Johnson Young.

The cast includes John Miljan, Pasquale Amato, Michael Vavitch, Andre de Seguirola, Paul Panzer, Clarissa Selwynne, Marc McDermott and Betty Blythe.

"Glorious Betsy" comes to the Narberth Theater next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Picture fans who were thrilled by Rod La Rocque's football playing as an Indian in "Braveheart" and as an Englishman seeking thrills in battles with Grecian bandits in "Stand and Deliver," will be more than delighted with his impersonation of a young Argentine athlete and football player in his latest stellar vehicle, "Hold 'em Yale!" which will be on view at the Narberth Theater on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next.

The story of "Hold 'em Yale!" based on Owen Davis' famous stage success, "At Yale," deals with the son of a wealthy planter in Argentina, who foils a trio of bandits and later meets the daughter of a Yale professor traveling in Argentina. He decides to go to Yale and an interesting love romance results, in the course of which he wins distinction as a college athlete. The action is said to be swift-moving and highly dramatic, the whole relieved by delightful comedy.

The supporting players are excellent. Jeanette Loff, who triumphed in "The Man Without a Face," "My Friend from India" and other recent screen productions, plays opposite Mr. La Rocque. Joseph Cawthorn, a veteran screen and stage player, is seen as a college professor, while Tom Kennedy, a noted comedian, has the role of a "goof" detective. Hugh Allan, who was seen to advantage in "Dress Parade," has a strong part.

LOCAL CRIME FANS

Many of the Best People Go to Library for Mystery Stories.

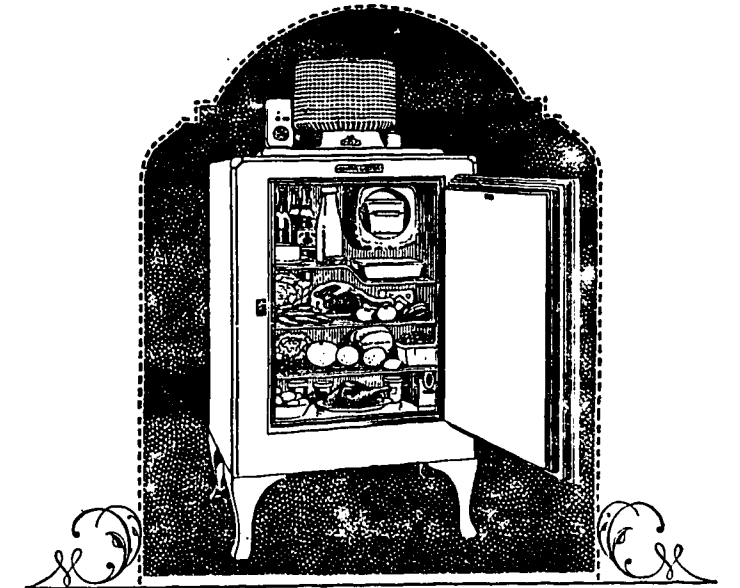

If you like to read stories of crimes and murderous mysteries you are one of a very large and respectable company here in Narberth and throughout the land generally. The Narberth Library records indicate that the reading of such books is by no means confined to the light-minded, whoever they may be. It is well known that the late President Wilson turned to them for relief and relaxation and it has recently been stated that Herbert Hoover likewise reads them.

Of course, there are some people for whom the story is the thing regardless of literary ability of the author, but it is interesting to observe at the Narberth Library that those crime stories which are best written usually prove to be the most popular. The institution of the Crime Club within the past year has proved to be a great accommodation to all who like to read such stories, but who prefer, out of the great number continually published, to get those which are the best. The monthly selections of the Crime Club are always the best of the current offerings, and the Narberth Library always orders in advance the monthly Crime Club book just as soon as the selection becomes public.

The Crime Club book for August was "The Man Who Killed Fortesque," which was one of the best mystery stories that has come out this year. Even the oldest and most experienced crime-story fan is mystified by that plot until the very end. The September selection was "The Silk Stocking Murders," which though not quite so ingenious a plot, is well worth reading and has the advantage of a London locale which brings in the inspectors of Scotland Yard, who always seem like old friends to those who began their habits of crime with Sherlock Holmes and who still think that he was the greatest fiction detective ever created.

CONVENIENT CO-OPERATION CUTS COSTS FRIENDLY

Benjamin Franklin walked through the streets of Philadelphia alone, poor and friendless. Yet at forty he was independent; at fifty his company was eagerly sought by the leaders of two continents. His success was not a secret or something mysterious. It was nothing more than this:

Every day of his life he added a part of some other man's brains to his own. He picked a few great mind-building books and read them systematically a few minutes every day.

Time is money in your home. You have a few minutes each week after our special mention column circular arrives to devote to studying it. Will you increase your savings by adding the information that this page possesses to your own?

The terms "Rich" and "Poor" depend on the person to whom they are given. Some people can be rich on a few thousands of dollars, while others may be poor on many times as much. It all depends on how one uses the money he earns—and there is no reason why you or any one else cannot get enough wealth to live in comfort during the years to come when it becomes harder to throw all the energy you now have into work.

Just now we are featuring in the column unusual values, and we do not believe there is a single housewife who can afford to overlook the opportunity of securing them at prices listed each week. We handle, as you know, new goods and first-class merchandise in every respect, and then, of course, our first duty is to render service.

The new Buick is the new Style

If you want beauty—if you want luxury—if you want up-to-the-minute smartness—there's only one choice... the choice of America... the new BUICK with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher.....

From one end of the country to another—in New York, in Miami, in Chicago, in Los Angeles and all towns between—overwhelming praise for the distinctive beauty of the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

All agree that here is a new style—a new mode—an entirely different and original interpretation of motor car beauty, forecasting the trend of smart body-design for months to come.

And all are voicing their approval in steadily mounting demand—a demand several times greater than the demand for any other automobile that makes even the slightest bid for comparison with this new Buick!

Thrilling new lines—graceful contours—gently rounded steel panels at sides and hood, the most expensive steel panel work employed on any automobile in the world—lend matchless charm and beauty to the Buick silhouette.

Vivid new colors—smartly-contrasting chrome-plated headlamps and cowl-lamps—striking new radiator, fender and bumper design—impart added dash and distinction.

And wonderful new interiors—with new adjustable front seats and full-width rear seats—new velvet mohair upholstery—and the most attractive hardware and fittings—all combine to form ensembles of rare and distinguished artistry. It's the new style—the new mode—in motor cars!

Around the Corner and Gone Forever

Not here today and gone tomorrow.

Not rushing into town grabbing all the business to be had and out again.

Not by extravagant talk and over-statements forcing inferior merchandise on you.

Not dodging taxes, civic responsibilities and all duties of citizenship.

Not a parasite. Not an insidious home town
destructionist.

Such only is the peddler, the canvasser, the self-styled traveling representative who comes at any hour, rings your doorbell, takes your money—and once around the corner—
is gone forever.

Compare that type with your local merchants
and business men.

The business men are here 365 days a year to serve you at your convenience to back up the merchandise they sell to you, to share taxes and civic responsibilities, to help make the community happier and more prosperous, to rejoice in your joys, to be neigh-borly, to stand by you when in need.

The future of your community hinges absolutely on Community Loyalty from everyone of its citizens.

A Bouncing Child

One year ago, amid ceremonies that indicated the civic character of the event, the Narberth Theater opened its doors to "the largest throng ever seated under one roof in the borough." The inauguration of the new community playhouse was celebrated by speeches at the theater, a dinner given the owners at the Philadelphia Country Club, and, most important of all, by an immense outpouring of citizenry of the borough.

Next week is the first birthday of this community enterprise, for such it really is. It seems so much an integral part of the borough life at present that it is hard to realize its tender age. The owners, Messrs. Salasin and Freed, are sparing no expense to give their patrons the very best in moving picture entertainment.

Nor is this enterprise one devoted solely to the aggrandizement of its proprietors. Many organizations in town are the possessors of fatter bank balances because of benefits which they have given in co-operation with the theater.

All in all Narberth may congratulate itself on the possession of such an attractive playhouse. In many people's unbiased opinion it is the most beautiful movie theater on the Main Line. And the type of pictures exhibited leaves little to be desired. Included in the bookings for the near future we understand are such films as "Siegfried," "Submarine" and "Caligari," surely a feast to whet the appetite of the most seasoned movie goer.

More About the

Canadian System

To the Editor of "Our Town,"

Narberth, Pa.

Dear Sir:

The columns of "Our Town" recently have given out many helpful hints for the voter, and it is with this view in mind I ask space for a few words.

There are many issues which are before us at this time, and one of great importance is prohibition, which is governing some in casting their ballots.

As this is only a national issue, it should not be a governing point to offset the numerous international issues which will come before the one who is elected to go to the White House.

Nevertheless, some important information on the prohibition issue is very worth while knowing.

On August 22 in accepting the Democratic party's nomination, Governor Alfred E. Smith advocated the State control of alcohol as a substitute for prohibition, praising very highly the Canadian system and asserting that similar control in this country "would re-establish respect for law and terminate the agitation which has injected discord into the ranks of the great political parties."

It is in view of attempting State control under Governor Smith's plan, that I submit the following report:

I am not speaking as a member of the Anti-Saloon League. The Law Enforcement Order, or any such organization, but as a former Democratic voter. I understand the different liquor commissions and liquor boards are by State appointment.

JUST WHAT IS BEING
"CONTROLLED" BY LIQUOR
CONTROL IN CANADA?

NOT THE AMOUNT OF LIQUOR
DRUNK, for Ontario is buying liquor at the rate of $1,000,000 a week.—Ontario
Liquor Board. In Alberta 4-000,000 gallons of liquor sold in second year of "control."—Alberta Liquor
Board. "Sales of beer increased 1-000,000 gallons over last year."—Quebec Liquor Commission. The seven provinces having "Government Control," with a population of 10,000,000, spend $160,000,000 a year for liquor.—
Reports of the seven liquor control boards.

NOT THE SALE OF HARD LIQUOR, for "since the opening of the beer parlors the sales of hard liquors increased 50 per cent."—British Columbia Liquor Board. Sale of hard spirits increased 32,275 gallons in one year.—Quebec Liquor Commission.
Sale of hard liquor increased 33 per cent. in last two years.—Saskatchewan Liquor Board, 1927.

NOT THE NUMBER OF PERSONS
DRINKING—Alberta issued 60,000 permits the first year; two years later she issued 144,000 permits.—Alberta
Liquor Board. In Ontario 220,440 permits were issued in first four months.—Ontario Liquor Board.
Drunkness among women increased 53 per cent.—Montreal Star.

NOT DRUNKENNESS—"If all the drunks were arrested there would be no room for them in the jails."—Police Commissioner C. F. Burton, of Manitoba. "Arrests for drunkenness increased 125 per cent. in first eight months."—Saskatchewan Liquor Board. "All records for inebriates were broken today when 89 Labor Day celebrants faced Magistrate Cohen." —Toronto Star.

NOT BOOTLEGGING—"Our greatest problem is moonshine in the country districts."—Alberta Liquor Board.
"Bootlegging increased 111 per cent. in first year."—Saskatchewan Liquor Board. "As much liquor is sold by bootleggers as is sold in the Government stores."—British Columbia Liquor Board.

Many Canadians are discovering instead of liquor being controlled by the Government, the Government is being controlled by liquor.—Buffalo Citizens' Committee of 10,000 for Law Enforcement.

SUZANNE JORET GILL

The FIRESIDE

Miss Adelaide R. Holcombe will be maid of honor for her sister, Miss Malvina K. Holcombe, whose marriage to Mr. Kenneth Conarroe Trotter, son of Mr. Lindley H. Trotter, of 205 Woodside avenue, will take place at 6 o'clock next Saturday. Miss Holcombe is the daughter of Cynwyd and Mrs. A. H. Holcombe, of Haverford. Mr. William W. Walton, of Haverford, will be best man. The wedding will be held at the home of the bride's parents, and will be attended by the immediate families only. After a honeymoon trip Mr. Trotter and his bride will live at the Brockley Court, City Line, and will be at home after November 15.

Mr. Henry Allen, of Westville, N. Y., has returned to his home after a visit with his sister, Mrs. Carl W. White, of Narberth and Windsor avenues. Dr. and Mrs. White drove a party of friends over to Princeton last Saturday to see the Princeton-Virginia game.

The wedding of Miss Mary N. Lea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Langdon Lea, and Mr. Robert Holmes Page, Jr., took place Wednesday evening in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont. A reception for 400 guests was held afterwards at the home of the bride's parents on Wynnewood avenue, Wynnewood.

Mrs. E. S. Newman, of Lantwyn lane, entertained the members of her bridge club Tuesday evening at her home. There were eight guests.

Mrs. Lester Collier, of the Lakeview Apartments, will spend several days next week in New York city, as the guest of her sister.

Miss Elma Reese, of Hampden avenue, will spend this week-end in Glen-side. Her mother, Mrs. G. H. Reese, will visit friends in Concordville, Pa., over the week-end.

Mrs. L. Fielding Howe, of Lantwyn lane, who underwent a major operation a few weeks ago, is improving very much and is expected to return to her home in about two weeks.

With the hunting season on, we hear of several lovers of the sport spending days in the wilds of Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Burnside, of Iona avenue, are spending several days this week hunting near Quakertown, Pa.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Paul Shea have returned from their honeymoon and are occupying their new home in the Baird Apartments. Mrs. Shea before her marriage was Miss Florence Nelson.

Harvey Cook and Charlie Funk, both of Essex avenue, went to Bucks county this week to shoot birds.

Ernest, Lou and Elmer Jenkins are expected to return this week-end with well-filled bags, after a few days of hunting near Huntingdon, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Goodwin and their young son moved this week from Forrest avenue to their new home in Wynnewood.

Miss Catherine Sexton has returned to her home on Iona avenue, following an appendicitis operation performed recently at the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Mrs. Arno Zillger, of Anthwyn road, and Mrs. M. B. Graham, of Philadelphia, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Clarence H. Woolmington, of 23 Narbrook Park, on Wednesday.

Miss Elizabeth Carpenter, of Baltimore, Md., is visiting her uncle, Mr. Orien Berry, and family, of 210 Hampden avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cochill and Mrs. G. H. Reese, of Hampden avenue, motored to Lakehurst last Sunday hoping to witness the arrival of the Zep.

Mrs. Floyd W. Woodcock, of Montgomery avenue, entertained at bridge on Wednesday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Robertson, Oliver Robertson and Miss Emily Dickson, of Seewickley, Pa., are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stackhouse, of Price avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John VonHofen, of the Baird Apartments, spent last week-end in Pittsburgh as guests of Mrs. VonHofen's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Downes, Jr., who have been on a trip through the middle west and returned by way of the Great Lakes to Buffalo, arrived home the end of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fellows Wood, of 237 Forrest avenue, are spending a few days in New York city over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Ludfore and daughter, of Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. C. Armstrong, of Collingswood, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Smith were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward U. Smith, of 200 South Narberth avenue, last week-end.

Miss Virginia Smith has as her guest this week, Mr. Theodore Moore, who is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha at Penn State College.

Miss Elizabeth Terry, of Grayling avenue, was a guest at a house party in Ocean City, N. J., last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garfield Compton, of Woodbine avenue, will celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary tomorrow.

Miss Sue Ewing, of Stuart avenue, sailed Wednesday on the S. S. Chatham for Jacksonville, Fla., where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. E. E. Larson, of Chicago, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Oakie Cook, of 122 Windsor avenue. Mrs. Larson was formerly Miss Audrey Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Russel Green, of 440 Woodbine avenue, spent last week-end in West Virginia, West Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Miss Lois Smith, of South Narberth avenue, spent last week-end in Atlantic City.

Mothers' Council Stages Enthusiastic Meeting

The Mothers' Council had a most interesting and enthusiastic meeting in the library at the school on Monday evening, October 15. The speaker was Miss Edith Everett, Supervisor of Councillors of the White-William Foundation of Philadelphia.

Her subject was "Co-operation Between Parents and Teachers," a topic of much interest to those in attendance. She told of the satisfactory results of counselling as obtained in many of the Philadelphia schools. The councillor, it seems, acts as a link between the home and school. She is often able to find out why children are not doing satisfactory school work and to find the remedy. The councillor is a good friend both to the school and to the home. Many interesting points were brought out in the most informal and enthusiastic discussion which followed.

Ten members of the Mothers' Council are in attendance at the State Congress of Parents and Teachers at Easton, which is in session from October 16 to 19, inclusive. Those attending are Miss Hoover, Mrs. Van Auker, Mrs. Sigel, Mrs. J. L. Miller, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Hankey and Mrs. Aungst.

Change Name

The name of the Narberth Stamp Club was changed at its last meeting to the Harry S. New Stamp Club in honor of the present postmaster general. Officers elected at a recent meeting are: Eugene Claghorn, president; Victor Carson, vice president; Donald Monroe, treasurer; Charles Saffberg, secretary. Meetings are scheduled to be held every Friday night at the Presbyterian Church at 7:30 o'clock. All boys collecting stamps or autographs are invited and visitors are welcome.

To Hear Missionary's Wife

On Sunday evening, October 21, the Senior Luther League of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church will have as its speaker Mrs. A. F. A. Neudoerffer, whose husband has been a missionary to India for several years. Everyone is invited to this meeting at 6:45 P. M., which promises to be of unusual interest.

Polls Are Moved

Announcement was made this week by a county commissioner through J. W. McAuliffe, registry assessor, that the polls for the Second voting district had been moved from the second floor of the Narberth National Bank to 104 Essex avenue, Cook Brothers' store. The new polling place will be used first at the election on November 6.

Get Licenses

A marriage license was issued last Wednesday at Norristown to Joseph Scargill, Wset Manayunk Republican committee man and Dorothy Kirkpatrick, 52 Lauriste street, Philadelphia.

Other licenses granted at the county seat the same day were to: John P. Shea and Florence E. Nelson, both of Narberth, and Franklin H. Berry, Beach Haven, N. J., and Eleanor W. Lamon, Cynwyd.

Sale Is Thursday

Next Thursday, October 25, is the date of the rummage sale conducted by the Evangel Circle of King's Daughters. Any goods will be collected if Mrs. J. T. Darlington (Narberth 3932-W) is notified.

Gives Trees

The United States Government was the recipient this week of 1001 flowering crab trees, the gift of A. E. Wohler, local nurseryman. The trees, averaging from four to six years old, will be planted in a public park in Washington.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

The office of Robert J. Nash, realtor, desires to report the following sales and rentals:

New residence at 435 Anthwyn road, Merion, has been sold for George B. Turner to Mr. T. Calvin Pillion. Mr. Pillion expects to occupy this property as his home upon its completion.

Mr. A. B. Wainwright has purchased the property of Raymond C. Jones on Old Gulph road, north of Narberth. Mr. Wainwright expects to shortly take possession of his new home.

Mr. Benjamin M. Fowler, Jr., has leased property Glenbrook road, Ardmore.

Property owned by Mr. J. L. Miller at 118 Essex avenue has been rented to A. E. Peto.

501 Beechwood lane has been leased to Mr. Edith R. Lewis for Wallace & Warner.

208 Iona avenue, Narberth, has been sold through this office to Miss M. J. Finn, of Philadelphia.

3 Hampden avenue has been leased for Miss K. Ritchie to Mr. A. W. Hall, who will occupy it as his home.

18 Shiller avenue leased by Mrs. Elizabeth Ashton from Mr. W. Roser as her residence.

Residence and two-car garage at 235 Kent road, Ardmore, has been rented for Mr. P. S. Cochran to Mr. G. H. Newcomb. Mr. Newcomb has just been transferred from Newark, Delaware, and expects to occupy his new home in the near future.

Preserving of Tax Receipts Made Easy

In connection with the payment of 1928 taxes, Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold stresses the importance of carefully preserving the tax receipts. In the resale of property receipted tax bills for the past five years are a very necessary part of the transaction.

Many people, the Tax Collector said, labor under the delusion that all that is necessary to do is ask the tax collector to write a letter saying their taxes have been paid. Unfortunately this is not the case, for trust companies require receipted tax bills as evidence.

As an aid to the preserving of tax receipts, the tax collector is providing heavy brown envelopes, which admirably fill the purpose of safeguarding the receipts and also serve to identify the elusive slips when placed in a safe deposit box.

All borough residents who pay their bills in person are presented with such an envelope, while those who pay by mail may obtain one by stopping at the Narberth National Bank.

Special Issue Announced

A special surcharged issue of two-cent stamps, "Molly Pitcher," commemorating the battle of Monmouth, was announced this week by the U. S. Post Office. They consist of regular two-cent stamps with the words "Molly Pitcher" stamped in black over them. Fifty thousand have been ordered by the local post office and will be on sale the first of the week.

The Ott boy was born in Cynwyd and was an orphan from early youth. At the beginning of the war he was making $8 a month as farm hand for a man by the name of Rhodes, who had the rental of Warner Robert's old farm. His schooling, like that of others of his time, was limited. It had partly been acquired in the old Lower Merion Academy, which still stands near the new Cynwyd School.

"Johnny" returned to the farm when he was mustered out and was soon making the large sum of $13 a month. Then he worked in a store in Merionville until he was ready to start in business for himself, delivering milk. He had his own tract of land by now, and a few cows and horses, and pails in which to carry the milk.

He prospered, and there came a day when he was the owner of a livery stable at Fortieth and Lancaster avenue, Philadelphia, and a 40-acre farm, extending along Levering Mill road approximately from State road to Bryn Mawr avenue. It was through this land that he built, later on, Llanfair road, now known as Dedwen road.

The land was bought in 1885 and parts of it were later sold to Colonel DeForrest Ballou, Harvey C. Irwin

New Petition in Gladwyne Brings Old Name Controversy to Fore Again—Rea Says He Is Thru

Question as to whether Gladwyne should be known by its present designation, or as Merion Square, was brought to the fore this week again when a petition was circulated among residents there asking that the name Gladwyne be retained. This plea will be presented to the postal authorities at Washington.

Over 400 signatures have been secured, it was stated, and the claim was made that this represents about 95 per cent. of the patrons of the Gladwyne post office. Orion E. Kline, Gladwyne committeeman, was one of the signers on the list.

The controversy over a name for the community is one of long standing. It was last in the limelight over a year ago, when a group of property owners headed by Samuel Rea, former head of the Pennsylvania Railroad, circulated a petition requesting that the name be changed back to Merion Square, the original and more historically correct name of the community. This plea was fought by another group from the village which claimed that confusion in the delivery of mail between Merion Square, Merion and Upper Merion would result were the change made. This confusion was the chief reason for the switch to Gladwyne made by the postal authorities years ago.

Other reasons against the change given by the signers of the present petition is that of the inconvenience which would result from the changing of present letterings on trucks and store windows, and of stationery. Hope is expressed that the present effort will see an end of the name controversy and that the decision given this time on the naming of the community will be final and permanent.

Whether a second petition is being circulated this time requesting a change to Merion Square could not be learned. Samuel Rea, who led the group seeking the old name the last time the question was up, disclaimed any interest in the present movement this week.

"A petition requesting that the name be changed to Merion Square, signed by many of the property owners in this community, was circulated some time ago," Mr. Rea said Wednesday. "I presume this petition is still on file with the postal authorities at Washington as there has been no notification of action on it."

"Twas Side Stepped Politically"
"I am not interested in the matter any more. If the residents of the community do not want the old historic name of Merion Square, they can go along with the present one. I am through with it."

The petition for the retention of Gladwyne as the name comes as the climax to a revival of the name controversy which took place recently when a new fire company was formed in the community. The group favoring the old designation was victorious in this tilt with the result that the new company was named the Merion Square Fire Company. Feeling was keen, however, and as a result many of the villagers vow that they will not support, financially, the new volunteer unit as long as it retains its present name.

While Gladwyne is the designation used by the post office department and the bus company which serves the community, it is pointed out that Merion Square also has its official supporters. Merion Square School is the title which the Lower Merion School Board has given to its building located in Gladwyne. Mention is also called to the fact that, politically, the question has been side-stepped. Whether by accident or by design, the county commissioners, establishing a voting district for the community, named neither Gladwyne nor Merion Square by designating it as the "Upper District of Lower Merion."

Loyalty Becomes Community Asset When All Work for Town's Interest

Did you ever consider what loyalty means to a community? Did you ever ask yourself the question and at the same time be fair and answer it to fully satisfy your own conscience? Are you convinced in your own mind that you are loyal to your neighborhood merchants?

In order for the continued growth of a certain community, it is necessary to have in that community one hundred per cent. loyalty on the part of the business interests and residents.

Putting the question to a merchant, he may say that loyalty is trading at home, buying from the neighborhood store exclusively. The same question put to a doctor may get the response that real loyalty is calling a community physician; to a lawyer, the appeal would be to patronize the home lawyer; the publisher may say that loyalty finds reflection in patronizing his printing plant and having all printing done at home, and, at the same time, advertise exclusively in his publication instead of through other channels which he is thoroughly convinced are not as effective. And the dentist would surely say: "To prove your loyalty, let me do your dental work."

These are, indeed, requirements for loyalty to a community, but there is still an element that does not enter into what we have been calling attention to. It is much larger than most people comprehend. For example, here is a professional or business man, or firm, as the case may be, operating in our community. He or they do not belong to, or contribute to any organization for the progress of this community and neighborhood. They make money here to invest elsewhere.

Is it loyalty to the community to patronize such men or firms? Do you consider it loyalty to assist the greedy person whose every effort is expended in sapping or devouring our community?

We should remember that it is a requisite of loyalty to support the men and business institutions who support our community and neighborhood, providing, of course, their business is honorable and that they themselves are law-abiding citizens.

To be more explicit, the citizen who sits back and takes in the coin and gives nothing or does nothing towards building up our community from which he gets it, it is not a good citizen and real loyalty on the part of the public here would demand that he be given a good rest cure until he wakes up and becomes a real booster, or else vacates his place and gives an opportunity for a live man who realizes he owes something to the community in which he lives and makes a livelihood.

When it is possible, trade at home or buy in your community, but when you do this trading and buying, keep uppermost in mind to patronize the merchant who is doing things for our community and not confining his efforts solely and selfishly to his own interests. In other words, give your support to those who labor with and contribute to all forces for the commercial progress and moral betterment of our community.

Narberth is just what we make it and co-operation is entirely essential upon the part of those who live here, if we are to make the proper progressive stride in this great country of ours.

Two to One

Six girls and but three boys comprise the latest nine additions to the population of Lower Merion and Narberth, as recorded at Ardmore by G. C. Anderson, registrar of vital statistics here. They are as follows:

Angelo, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Fouette, 311 East County Line road, Ardmore, born September 29 at home.

Dorothy Cionci, 708 Railroad avenue, September 30, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cionci.

Filomena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arcadio Campli, 762 Railroad avenue, Bryn Mawr, September 24.

Albert N., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Morris Cherry, 98 Jefferson street, West Manayunk.

Janet Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones Kenny, Ardmore, September 27, born in the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Richards, Barclay Farms, Rosemont, September 30, born in the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Ana Pilar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Graham, Gulf road, Bryn Mawr, September 23.

Eliminate Hazard

A driving hazard at Brighton and Haverford roads, Penn Wynne, has been eliminated through the co-operation of Williams and Meloney, builders, according to announcement by the Keystone Automobile Club this week.

The club recently suggested to the builders that the embankment at this intersection be cut away to give motorists a chance to cross in safety. The suggestion was acted upon immediately.

SCHOOLS SET HIGH ENROLLMENT MARK

Attendance to Date of 4164
Beats Last Fall's Record by 221.

O. K. SCHOOL MAGAZINE

Total enrollment in the Lower Merion public schools to date this term is 4164, according to the official figures submitted by Superintendent E. Edgar Downs to the Board of Education at its October meeting held Wednesday night in the Senior High School, Ardmore.

The enrollment is far above the 3882 total of the same time last year, and is 221 more than the figure of 3943 set September 10, when the schools opened their doors for the season. The Senior and Junior High Schools head the list with totals of 738 and 619 respectively. Merion Square and Bala are two lowest, with enrollments of 141 and 200 to date respectively.

Totals in other schools are as follows: Ardmore avenue, 593; Ashland, 452; Bryn Mawr, 446; Cynwyd, 366; Merion, 265, and Wynnewood road, 344.

"The average monthly attendance of both children and teachers has been especially good," Mr. Downs said. "Only 3 per cent. of our students have been absent, with little sickness and few absences for other causes." Four schools had attendance percentages of 98; Cynwyd was lowest with 93 per cent.

Approve School Magazine.

Permission was given the Senior High School, of which Charles B. Pennypacker is principal, to publish a paper or bulletin. Requested by the students, the paper was recommended by Superintendent Downs, who told the directors of "its possible value to the students who participate."

The publication will be edited by the English Department and financed by the school. Students will secure subscriptions and advertising to pay for its publication. Four issues per year are contemplated.

Many routine matters were considered by the board, which celebrated its annual feast night with cider, cakes and fruit from President William Austin's farm in Rosemont.

Superintendent Downs' report follows in part:

"Following the appeal of President Coolidge for contributions toward the relief of storm and flood sufferers we gave the children of the schools the opportunity of assisting. The contributions submitted and transferred today to the Main Line and Schuylkill Divisions of the Red Cross are as follows:

Senior High School	$90.00
Junior High School	141.84
Ardmore Avenue	53.00
Ashland	40.00
Bala	50.00
Bryn Mawr	71.34
Cynwyd	143.00
Merion	108.05
Merion Square	20.21
Wynnewood Road	56.29
Total	$773.73

"The Main Line Orchestra Association has asked the privilege of holding its four concerts this winter on suitable Monday evenings in our Junior High School auditorium. Tickets will be furnished as usual to subscription members, and to those in our schools most interested in music. No charge will be made at the door. I recommend that this privilege be granted without charge except for the usual janitor service.

"The township and county have completed the concrete work with curbing on Bala avenue from the Cynwyd Station to City Line. The new grade of this road with its curb makes it higher than our walk along a part of the lawn. As the water from our rain conductor runs under the walk, it is now impossible to secure satisfactory drainage to the street. This old walk is but four feet wide and has constantly given us trouble during bad weather and in the winter through the accumulation of water on it. Now that the whole road is paved permanently, Mr. Yocom and I, after inspecting this, decided to recommend that we advertise for bids to erect a new six-foot concrete walk the full length on Bala avenue. I so recommend."

Mr. Young, our janitor at the Bala School, has been compelled to resign because of permanent disability. The vacancy has been filled as of October 1 by the selection of C. W. Calvert, Jr., of Pencoyd. Mr. Calvert has had experience in work with builders and in the erection of furnaces, and is recommended by representative citizens.

"In accordance with the authorization of the Board contract was given to the Suburban Construction Company for the temporary repair and patching of School House Lane, of which repair work the School Board pays one-half and Mr. H. J. Haas the balance.

"Checks have been sent from the office of our secretary to the treasurers of our three township public libraries, and lists of the selected reading materials for the elementary, Junior, and Senior High School pupils have been furnished from this office to the local librarians with the request that they purchase, if possible, all of these books

MAIN LINE HAS ITS SLUMS, CLUB HEARS

Some Housing Along Pike Is Worse Than City's, Women Are Told.

POLITICS UP FOR TODAY

Slum conditions as well as improved housing on the Main Line were topics of Mrs. Harrie F. Reed, of Haverford, who represented the Community Health and Civic Association as speaker at the first regular fall meeting of the Woman's Club of Ardmore held last Friday afternoon at the club building on Ardmore avenue.

Mrs. Reed illustrated both good and bad conditions by means of photographs taken along the Main Line. Some of the worst housing arrangements, similar to city slums, were along the Lincoln Highway. Inner courts were shown where one outside hydrant served as the sole source of water for several families. The speaker also explained points of law requiring property owners to supply certain conveniences and make repairs to maintain livable quarters for their tenants. One instance was the law which now compels a landlord to connect his property with a sewer within 60 days after he is given notice.

At the close of Mrs. Reed's talk a general discussion of housing problems, both general and applying to the members of the club, was held. Questions concerning water in a cellar caused by building on a neighboring lot, and weeds on a vacant ground permitted to grow, an annoyance to nearby residents, were answered by the speaker, who indicated that owners who allowed conditions on their property to become a public nuisance could be forced to make necessary improvements.

The afternoon program, arranged by Mrs. Walter Rhodes and Mrs. Allen Miller, was preceded by a business meeting at which the President, Mrs. S. E. Slocum, presided.

The feature of today's meeting is a talk by Miss Martha Thomas on the political situation, with particular reference to the proposed State amendments which will be voted on at the coming election, also a demonstration of the voting machine.

Before the next business meeting, which is scheduled for Friday, November 2, the club will give a card party and fashion show at Strawbridge and Clothier's in Philadelphia on October 26. Tickets for this event are being handled by Mrs. W. A. Russ.

How to be Cozy

A "spare" room can very easily be made attractive, and at the same time, Warm in Winter and Cool in Summer. Masonite or Insulite, both practical and efficient insulating boards are of wood fiber construction with surfaces adapted to plaster or paint.

This makes it possible to decorate to your own liking and enjoy the advantages of a quiet den.

secure, as in no other way, a fair count. "Unless," she said in closing "We as women were more corrupt and contented than we were ever supposed to be, we should all work for the measures that seem of lasting good."

The resolutions that were passed at the convention were read by Mrs. Edwin Town and the resolution regarding the multi-lateral treaty and the cause and cure of war was put to a vote and passed by the club unanimously. Mrs. Farmer closed the meeting with Kipling's lines.

"It ain't the individual—

Or the army as a whole,

But the everlasting teamwork

Of individual soul."

That will make a successful year for the club, the president averred.

Plan Local Drive

Daniel Leitch, of Essex avenue, has again appointed Narberth chairman for the annual drive of the Welfare Federation, which extends this year from October 22 to November 2. Mr. Leitch is treasurer of the Merion Title and Trust Company.

The vice chairmen will be Fred-eric A. Egmore and E. H. Sickles. A corps of volunteers will assist these three men in raising Narberth's quota.

Although plans are being completed for the canvass, the local committee finds itself badly in need of workers so that the territory may be completely covered. Mr. Leitch has requested that any one willing to assist in the work communicate without delay with himself or one of the vice chairmen.

D. A. R. Makes Donation

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, N. S. D. A. R., met Saturday, October 13, at the home of Mrs. Joseph R. Aiken, 406 Essex avenue, Narberth, the regent, Mrs. Charles M. Irwin, presiding.

During the business session reports were heard from the various chairmen and a donation to the Caroline Scott Harrison memorial was made. It was also decided to purchase one thousand "Flag Codes" to be presented to school children.

Following the business an interesting program was given, honoring Mrs. Caroline Scott Harrison, who was the first president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. A social hour was then enjoyed and tea served by the hostess.

WINE RE-ELECTED TENNIS CLUB HEAD

Annual Meeting Last Friday
Featured by Election of Officers.

GOVERNORS CHOSEN

John Beerman Wine, of Shirley road, was re-elected president of the Narberth Tennis Association at its annual meeting last Friday night at the Narberth National Bank. This will be Mr. Wine's second year at the club's helm. He was preceded by W. P. Davies, who held the tiller for one year, and who succeeded W. D. R. Evans, president for many years in succession.

H. Ronald Paige, vice president for 1927-28, was succeeded by George McFadden, runner-up in the club tournament. William E. Hannum succeeds W. J. Sommer as secretary. A. C. Staples was re-elected treasurer of the association, a position he has held for several years.

Carl B. Metzger, former burgess, was elected to the Board of Directors, while Crone, Kairer and Sut-liff were elected to the Board of Governors.

Two other organizations which began investigations of the drinking water following the Lower Merion warning were the Narberth borough and the Radnor township boards of health. Dr. George A. Sloan, head of the Narberth Board declared that up to Wednesday he had taken samples from only one of the two reservoirs of the Philadelphia-Suburban Water Company and there was "nothing to report yet." The Radnor Board, on the other hand, took samples early last week, and more later, gave the water company a clean bill of health on Wednesday, through Dr. Lemhardt, its hygienist.

The Radnor report has a bearing on the Lower Merion situation in view of statements made the past week by Carleton E. Davis, manager of the Philadelphia-Suburban Water Company. It was the general belief that Radnor gets its supply from a different water shed than the Lower Merion end of the Main Line, but Mr. Davis declared that "the two supplies come from practically the same source."

Radnor Tested.
Dr. Lemhardt, reporting for Radnor, stated this week that four samples taken by him of Radnor township last Monday and verified on Friday, showed a bacterial count of only from two to five per cubic centimeter and revealed no colon matter and no gas. This is a marked difference from the last Lower Merion health board tests which were reported to have shown a bacterial count of 164 per cubic centimeter.

"We have found nothing in our tests on which to issue a warning," said Dr. Lemhardt. "The water has passed all right."

"Some of the samples taken were from County Line which borders on Lower Merion and other analyses," he declared, "would be taken from the Rosemont section of Radnor township. Inspections of the water will go on as a matter of routine," Dr. Lemhardt said, "and more samples will be collected today."

The water question may be brought to an official close next week when both sides in the Lower Merion controversy will be heard from. On Monday night, a special meeting of the Township Board of Health will be held at the Lower Merion building in Ardmore. At that time Chemist Horn will report on further analyses of the water supply made since the last regular meeting of the Board on October 1, when it issued its warning.

On Tuesday night Manager Davis, of the Philadelphia-Suburban is scheduled to speak at the monthly meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club in the Cynwyd fire hall, and is expected to give the water company's side of the matter.

The first of the Democratic mass meetings were staged last week in Bryn Mawr. Both were held at the Moose Hall there. The opening one on Thursday was under the chairmanship of George L. Brennan, commit-tee man from Bryn Mawr. The principle speakers were Louise Tallins, Esq., of Indiana, and F. A. Faber, of Philadelphia, both members of the speakers bureau of the Philadelphia Citizen's Committee for Smith. There was a large attendance.

Talk of Three Headquarters.
The second rally was held Saturday night under the auspices of the Garret Hill Smith-Robinson Club. In addition to speakers and singing there was a minstrel show.

Headquarters for the distribution of publicity for Governor Smith and his running mate, planned earlier by the Democratic committee, were opened Tuesday in a store at 20 East Lancaster avenue, Ardmore. Miss Alice Riera, Ardmore, who is one of the organizers of the Main Line women workers for Smith, was placed in charge. She will be assisted by volunteer workers in keeping the headquarters open throughout the day and the evening.

Other headquarters along the Main Line are planned. Mark McNally, committeeman for Haverford, made application to the committee last week for a Smith stand in his bailiwick. He proposed to open headquarters in the old Stuhlreher place on Lancaster pike, Haverford. Arrangements have not yet been completed.

Another link in the Main Line Democratic chain is proposed for Rosemont at a site yet to be chosen. This place will probably be operated by the Delaware County Democrats with Mrs. John M. Gallagher, prominent Radnor township worker for Smith, acting as supervisor.

The fourth weekly meeting of the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic Committee will be held tomorrow night at Ardmore again in the Merion Title building. The speaker, who will address the workers, will be Dr. Henry A. Bomberger, of South Ardmore. He was organizer of the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club.

The speaker at last week's meeting was C. B. Hunt, of the Philadelphia Smith Committee. There was an attendance of 100 committee men and Smith workers. This was double the number that attended the previous week's session and necessitated the use of a larger room.

Speaker Hunt, an ex-service man, deplored the religious issue which has been brought into the Presidential campaign.

"When we enlisted for the World War," he said, "we were asked no questions as to our religion. It was sufficient that we were willing to serve our country. It is asking for ordinary Americans fair play and decency that the same stand be taken as to candidates for political office."

Another speaker at the meeting was Charles S. Powell, Ardmore, who discussed the prohibition stand of Governor Smith. He told of a recent visit to Canada, during which he investigated the Dominion's handling of the liquor problem. He commended it as the most practical system of which he knew.

Mr. Powell, who is also chairman of the sub-committee on finance, told the Democrats that approximately $1500 would be needed to defray the committee's expenses for the Main soliciting donations would be sent out this week, he announced.

Richard J. Hamilton, Ardmore, banker and vice chairman of the Democrat Committee, stressed the need for having the polls in the 16 districts of Lower Merion and Narberth sufficiently manned by party workers on election day. This detail he took up further following the meeting when he heard reports from committee men on the progress of the Smith drive in their individual districts.

Sign of Best Meats

Speaking of Sausage

How many of us realize, when speaking of sausage, that there are many varieties available at Bradley's for every occasion and weather? It is probably the most flexible food that dietitians know—good for the coldest and warmest days, beloved of the most energetic and the most tired cook. At Bradley's, for instance, you can procure the following varieties:

Fresh Country Sausage, Scapple, Vienna Loaf, Beef Bologna, Ham Bologna, Lebanon Bologna, Lunch Roll and Meat Loaf.

Avail yourself of this opportunity to deal at the best meat house in town. Don't take our word for this—try it.

COMMUNITY CLUB OPENS ITS SEASON

First Meeting Held in New
Hall.

MRS. ROSS SPEAKER

The get-together and organization meeting of the Women's Community Club, held Tuesday afternoon in their new quarters in the rear room at Elm Hall, was attended by about 80 members and it would seem that a year of forward looking plans and progress is an assured thing. Every chairman who outlined her plans for work, programs or classes had something worth while to offer, while of especial interest were the classes in creative reading and the Melody Way classes in musical instruction.

Miss Runyon, delegate to the thirty-third State convention of Pennsylvania women at Lancaster, gave a fine report of the convention. She asked that State President Mrs. Frick's appeal to make this a 100 per cent. registration of Pennsylvania club women this year be carried out so that there may be a more intelligent vote. The whole colorful meetings of these 800 women, representing the 70,000 federated club women of the State, were brought to the notice of the women; from the presentation of the red rose of Lancaster at the first meeting to the last resolution passed by the convention and the outstanding work of every department.

Mrs. Abram Bunn Ross, Montgomery county president, gave the talk of the afternoon on the State Bond Issue which comes before the voters on November 6. She stressed especially the Welfare Bond Issue saying that the State institutions are in need of a definite settled policy as no one without such a policy can plan for the future. As Mr. Owen Roberts said in his address on that subject, "So many institutions for welfare in the State have been started with great hope and then never completed, that a bond issue covering at least 10 years would be a great help in carrying out plans." Former Governor Pinchot's address on the forestry bond need was quoted.

He said nine-tenths of the lumber has to be imported into the State and that there are only two States in the Union who can now afford to export lumber. This bond he affirms will eventually not cost the State a cent, but will be self-supporting if forestation is carried out as it should be on a large scale. Beside the several bond issues, Mrs. Ross mentioned the mental examination for convicts, protection of adolescent defectives and the fact that the State is now living within its budget and that the per capita debt is below the surrounding States.

She stated that a voting machine will save 27 per cent. of the expense at every election and will

October Warm Wave Breaks Two High Marks

Previous temperature records for October 12 and 13 were broken last week when the thermometer soared to new heights for these dates. On the first day, Thursday, the mercury climbed to 84 degrees, according to Main Line Weatherman Charles Decker at Narberth, while on the second it went still one degree higher to hit the mark of 85.

Unseasonable heat which began last Wednesday grew during the week and was largely responsible for a temperature excess of 21 degrees which has been recorded by Mr. Decker's instruments since October 1. No check was given to the warm spell as every day but two, Tuesday and Wednesday, were clear and no rain, not even the smallest hundredth of a per cent., was recorded for the entire week. There was a perfect record of zero in precipitation for the seven days beginning last Sunday, October 8.

The high and low temperatures for each day of the week were: Sunday, 66 degrees and 41; Monday, 75 and 49; Tuesday, 68 and 46; Wednesday, 75 and 44; Thursday, 84 and 51; Friday, 85 and 57; Saturday, 74 and 45.

Graf Zeppelin Brings Letters and Cards to Residents From Germany

Over 100 pieces of mail postmarked "Friedrichshafen" and New York, carried by the Graf Zeppelin, were delivered in the borough this week. Those favored thus include several stamp collectors and sweethearts of German youths. Some of the former are Richard Stites, Ralph McGuffin, Sunny Speed and Charles Saffberg.

All the Zeppelin mail was stamped "Luft Post" and "ZR 127." The stamps themselves, about the size of our special delivery stamps, are light blue and bear the design of a dirigible in flight over the ocean between two continents.

The rates for this unique postal service were not high in view of the limited quantity of mail carried. Postcards were sent for two marks, while letters cost four marks.

Mail may be sent via the Zeppelin on its return journey to Friedrichshafen, but the following regulations as given out by the local post office should be observed. Letters or cards should be inclosed in separate envelopes and addressed to the postmaster, New York City. A money order for the amount of the stamps should be inclosed. The return rates are 50 cents for postcards and $1 for letters.

As the Zeppelin floated slowly over Philadelphia it was not without observers from the borough. The roof of Smedley's office proved an excellent vantage ground and many merchants and citizens in the vicinity were not slow to avail themselves of it. A fine view of the great ship was to be had, although it was at least seven miles distant, its immense bulk being easily discernible through the trees.

IRWIN FILM WILL BE SHOWN TONIGHT

"Master of Emergencies" Is Feature on Program
at Elm Hall.

MANY PATRONESSES

Elm Hall this evening will be the scene of an enthusiastic Hoover gathering when the movie, "The Master of Emergencies," gets its premier in these parts. The picture, based on Will Irwin's life of Hoover, has been exhibited to large audiences at the Atlantic Building in Philadelphia. The National Committee of Engineers for Hoover is the sponsor for the film.

Two performances will be given tonight at 7 and 9 o'clock. Community singing led by Bruce Carey with Peter Stam, Jr., at the piano, will be an additional feature of the evening. Ushering is in charge of Miss Masie Simpson and her corps of young ladies. Tickets may be procured in advance at the Hoover headquarters, 100 North Narberth avenue, or at the door. It is rumored that there will be a speaker at the affair who is a personal friend of Hoover.

A radio will be installed in the Hoover headquarters on election day to get the returns, through the courtesy of the Narberth Electric Shop.

Contributions to the Hoover campaign fund will be gratefully received at the headquarters, or checks may be sent to Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller.

Recreation Club to Open

Main Line residents who enjoy the pastime of heaving a ball down the bowling alleys and those who prefer the gentler technique of making caroms over the green-baize covered tables may now indulge their desires. On Wednesday night, October 17, the Ardmore Recreation Club held its official opening.

The club has taken the entire upstairs of buildings numbering 49 to 61 West Lancaster avenue. There will be 10 bowling alleys and six billiard tables of the most modern type. Among the appointments will be the men's and women's lounging and locker rooms furnished in comfortable overstuffed chairs and divans.

The feature of the opening was the presence of Knoz and Murgie, Philadelphia's leading bowlers, who played some local bowler.

These alleys are the ones which are to be used by the Interchurch Bowling League of the borough in their weekly matches. The Ardmore Recreation Club is owned by Mr. Edwin Holland, who has secured the services of Mr. Donald Haig for manager.

Joseph J. Skelton, Sr., Bala-Cynwyd coal dealer, was speaker at the meeting Tuesday of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

Summary and Batting Averages Give Sidelights on Narberth Club.

GILFILLAN VALUABLE

Statistics for the forty-three games played this season by the Narberth baseball club show twenty-eight victories for an average of .651. While playing independent ball, the home talent have turned back eighteen teams in twenty-eight contests for an average of .650, which goes to show that independent ball was progressing very nicely up to the time of entering the League. In twilight games alone after the Walzerners went into the League, the wins and defeats were even at three each for a .500 mark.

Prior to associating with their Main Line rivals, the local were playing .640 ball, as is seen from their sixteen triumphs out of twenty-five combats. Figures for League competition show that the locals have trimmed seven teams out of nine frays, which registers an enviable .778, a mark which may remain untouched on the scrolls of local baseballdom.

In individual performances Johnny Gillespie, all-around athlete at Villanova and star maskman of the Narberth Ball Club, led the fence busters on their way to the title during the 1928 season, according to Manager Walzer, pilot of the team. Johnny led the regulars with an average of .379, while Bob Martin, substitute on nine occasions, was credited with an excellent but not phenomenal record of .500.

Robert (Bob) Gilfillan, that quiet and unassuming player, stands out as one of the most useful elements of the 1928 champions, aiding materially in the local's battle for baseballdom. A picturesque figure on first base and a whirlwind sensation at short, not to mention anything of his tremendous prowess with the bludgeon. Bob has constantly been the nemesis of many a hard-clouted drive, intended for the highway. Like his pilot, Gilly possesses the attributes of a true sportsman; an urbane youngster, he is a future prospect in the ranks of the major leagues.

John Ott, Cynwyd Pioneer and Civil War Veteran, Dies, Age 85

Lower Merion's remnant of the Grand Army of the Republic lost one of its number early Monday morning when John L. Ott, one-time farm hand, milk dealer, realtor, horse fancier and beloved old resident, died after a long illness at his home, 466 State road, Cynwyd. He was 85 years old. The last of his line, he is survived only by his widow.

Funeral services were held at 2 P. M. yesterday at the late home, and were conducted by Mr. Ott's pastor, Dr. Henry A. F. Hoyt, rector emeritus of St. John's Church, Cynwyd, himself a civil war veteran. Friends were permitted to call

DRAW JURORS FOR NOVEMBER COURT

32 From Township and Nine
From Narberth Listed
for Duty.

TERM TO BEGIN NOV. 12

Forty-one from the Main Line are among the 324 voters of the county at large drawn for jury duty at the November term of Criminal Court which begins at Norristown November 12. Nine of this number are from Narberth; 32 from Lower Merion.

Included among those drawn are Edward C. Griswold, former president of Narberth Council and present borough real estate assessor; Miss Blanche Meeser, General Wayne, member of the Lower Merion Health Board; Mary S. C. Woolman, wife of Henry Newbold Woolman, Haverford, donor of the Valley Forge site to the University of Pennsylvania; Miss Dorothea Fox, Cynwyd, harpist, and Ella L. Hammonds, Republican committee-woman from Bryn Mawr.

The Criminal Court is scheduled for a three-week sitting and will commence one week after the session of the Grand Jury which is listed for November 5. Jurors drawn from the Main Line and the time they will serve are:

Week of November 12: Gertrude Anders, Jacob Blasband, Anna Crawford, Mary Davis, Raymond F. Guernsey, Alice Huber, Roy Haley, Helen R. Liggett, Sidney Wood, of Lower Merion, and Emma Sompton, Edward C. Griswold, Sadie M. Jones, J. Frazier Purse, Agnes M. Rose, Lily H. Trotter, Claudia Van Ness, of Narberth.

Week of November 19: Catherine Aylor, James F. Barrett, Jr., James Connor, D. F. Everhart, Emma Frazier, Ella L. Hammonds, Lewis C. O. Lussan, Gilbert Moore, Thomas Moran, Juliette MacClelland, Warren C. Supple, Sara Shupert, Ethel M. Stanger, of Lower Merion, and Catherine M. Woods, of Narberth.

Post Plans Big Armistice Banquet

Plans are going rapidly ahead for the American Legion Armistice day banquet which is to be held on Monday night, November 12, inasmuch as Armistice day this year falls on Sunday.

Prospects look promising for the biggest banquet ever staged by the Harold D. Speakman Post, and if present plans go through, either a major general or a United States Senator will be the speaker of the evening.

The affair will in all probability be held in the Legion room of the Community Building, except in case of an exceptionally large crowd, in which case efforts will be made to procure Elm Hall for the evening.

Commander W. Russell Green expects to have final announcements of speakers by next week. Tickets for the banquet are in the hands of William H. Durbin, and will be placed on sale soon. Reservations may now be made with him, however.

L. M. Health Board May End
Controversy at Special Session Monday.

CLEAN BILL IN RADNOR

Practically no new developments were forthcoming this week in the "water situation" created here two weeks ago when the Lower Merion Board of Health issued a statement urging township residents to boil their drinking water. The warning was given following tests which it was declared showed an unusually high bacterial count for the product of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company, which serves Lower Merion, Narberth and the general Main Line territory.

A survey conducted last week among independent civic, health and medical organizations, some of which had made chemical analyses of their own, brought announcements that there was no need for alarm. Continued reassurances were forthcoming this week—not so much by direct statement or action as by the lack of it.

Further analysis of the supply was made last week by a chemist for the water committee of the Merion Civic Association of which Dr. Edward A. Shumway, Merion, member of the township health board, is chairman. Continued analyses have also been made by Dr. David W. Horn, chemist of the Lower Merion Board. By neither of these were warnings issued as would undoubtedly have been done had a dangerous condition been discovered. Therefore, as one official declared, "it may be presumed that there has been an improvement in the condition of the water."

Auto Tags to Be Gold on Blue

Gold numbers on a blue background will be the color scheme of the 1929 Pennsylvania motor license plates. New Jersey's will be white on a dark gray background. Delaware's will be dark blue on old gold. Maryland will be white on dark green and New York will be black on yellow, almost an exact duplicate of the Pennsylvania 1928 plate.

Thirty-nine States will change the color combination for automobile license in 1929 and 23 different motifs will be used, according to E. W. Tallman, general manager of the Automobile Club of Philadelphia.

There is a decided trend toward darker colors, it is revealed, and the "brunette" in license plates has gained a small lead over the "blonde." Although varied hues will be represented in the color schemes nine States and the District of Columbia will retain last year's color combination, reversing them as to background and lettering.

No single color motif can be said to prevail, although six States and the District of Columbia will use yellow letters and numerals on a black background. This color scheme will therefore predominate in 1929, taking rank over the black and white motif which was used in five States in 1928.

Second honor will go to the orange on black combination, which will be used in five States, as compared to four last year. Four States will use a combination of white on black and the same number have adopted white on green.

Between and between will be found the color schemes of sister States, with Tulodian red on cream yellow, black on aluminum and a variety of other hues represented in the identification of the units in the nation's transportation system on rubber tires.

Meet at Norristown

The attention of the League of Women Voters of Narberth is called to the annual meeting to be held in the Valley Forge Hotel, Norristown, on Friday, October 26, at 10 A. M. The speakers are Mrs. Vernon Kellogg, who was associated with Herbert Hoover in relief work in Belgium, for the Republican side; the Democratic side will be presented by Mrs. Daniel O'Day, who accompanied Governor Smith on his recent Western campaign trip. William Snader will speak on the 14 amendments.

DEMOCRATS HOLD RALLIES; PLAN MORE

Meeting at Township Building Okehed—Parade to Start It.

OPEN UP IN ARDMORE

Increased activity by Democrats and others interested in the cause of Governor Smith is being shown here as the Presidential campaign swings into its final few weeks.

Two mass meetings were held last week in Bryn Mawr; two more are being planned, one for Ardmore; the other for Cynwyd, and the Ardmore affair will be preceded by a street parade. In addition there probably will be headquarters for the distribution of publicity in three communities along the Main Line. One of these was opened in Ardmore this week.

Most of these activities are under the direction of the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic Committee which is holding weekly meetings. This committee, at its third session held Saturday night in the old Merion Title Building on Lancaster pike, Ardmore, made plans for its next rally, an open-air affair, which will be held in Ardmore probably next Friday evening.

Charles S. Powell, made chairman of a sub-committee to arrange for this meeting, secured permission Wednesday night from the Lower Merion Commissioners to stage the affair on the plaza in front of the township building on Lancaster pike, Ardmore. There will be speakers of local prominence aided by ones from the Philadelphia Citizens' Committee for Smith. An old-time political street parade with brass band 'n everything, will precede the meeting.

Arrangements for another rally, this one to be held in Cynwyd, were discussed Saturday night at the suggestion of Gwynn T. Sheppard, Cynwyd, one of the volunteer workers for Smith, member of the Democratic committee. Efforts will be made to secure Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, as speaker for this, and tentative plans call for staging the affair at the Egyptian Theatre.

Definite date for the rally has not yet been set. This and other arrangements were placed in the hands of a group headed by Edward F. Kane, Merion, chairman of the Montgomery County Democratic Committee. He will be aided by Mr. Sheppard and John M. Lynch, also of Cynwyd.

New Girl Scout Headquarters Open

The newly opened Main Line Girl Scout office at 25 East Athens avenue, Ardmore, is finding more and more "business" to attend to. As a consequence, the Girl Scout Main Line Committee which is sponsoring it, is very gratified, and feels that the scouts of the Main Line are on the threshold of a bigger and broader usefulness in the community.

The office is in charge of Miss Jane Newhall, field captain, who is ready and eager at all times to organize girl scout troops in the district, help those that are already organized, train leaders and give out information.

It is hoped that the number of troops now registered—sixteen—may be doubled in a short time. Leaders for this are needed, and all those who are over 18 and interested in girls and the out-of-doors are asked to communicate with Miss Newhall at Ardmore 350. Training classes are beginning at regular intervals. It is a most fascinating hobby, according to those who have tried it. At the same time splendid future citizens are being formed. Girl scouting aims to aid the home and the school to build for the future in the leisure hours.

Classes in preparation for First Class badges will be held by Miss Newhall once a month, beginning at an early date.

To Hold Dance

The Fellowship of All Saints' Church, Wynnewood, are having a masked dance on October 26, 1928, from 9 to 1. Dick Murphy's orchestra has been secured. The subscription is $1 per couple.

AT THE THEATER

A number of technical departures, introduced into "Street Angel" by Director Frank Borzage, will be observed when this new Fox picture co-featuring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell is seen at the Narberth Theater, where it opened last night. Various problems in photography had to be met.

The technical treatment suggested itself to Borzage from the nature of the story, which is based on a play by Monckton Hefle. The narrative centers about a little Italian street waif, forced to flee from the police and take refuge with a traveling circus, where she meets with a wandering painter and proves his artistic inspiration.

Its locale is Naples and environs. Since Naples is a city of towering houses and dim courtyards, this put the thought into Borzage's mind of photographing much of the picture in a twilight state of illumination. He and his cameraman had to take particular pains in achieving this subdued effect they would not at the same time blot out the features of Miss Gaynor and Farrell. Their aim was toward an almost contradictory mingling of obscurity and clarity, with high lights and silhouettes to bring out the features, without making them too sharp. Moreover, as Naples is a seaside city, and much of the action of the picture took place along the waterfront, the logical step was to introduce mist effects into the picture. Borzage made frequent use of this opportunity, swathing many of the scenes heavily in vapor, with ships and twinkling mooring lights showing through.

the same problem as when he shot his dim scenes. He had to keep his players from being smothered in the fog, while at the same time maintaining a thick enough haze so that it would not look like the feeble wisps of smoke pots which so often pass for mist in motion pictures. Despite many difficulties Borzage stuck to his plan, because he felt that the softened photographic effects would suit the pensive mood of many of the scenes.

Historical dramas produced on the screen not only provide delightful entertainment, but refresh one's knowledge of important incidents of an era long past, according to Conrad Nagel, who plays the male lead with Dolores Costello in her latest starring vehicle, "Glorious Betsy."

Nagel plays the role of Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, who marries Betsy Patterson, the "Belle of Baltimore," during an incognito visit to the United States.

Probably few people recall that Napoleon's brother Jerome actually did visit the United States or that he married an American girl.

It is around this incident which became a chapter in both French and American history that the story, "Glorious Betsy," was written by Anthony Coldway based upon the play by Rida Johnson Young.

The cast includes John Miljan, Pasquale Amato, Michael Varitch, Andre de Segura, Paul Panzer, Clarissa Selwynne, Marc McDermott and Betty Blythe.

"Glorious Betsy" comes to the Narberth Theater next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Picture fans who were thrilled by Rod La Rocque's football playing as an Indian in "Braveheart" and as an Englishman seeking thrills in battles with Grecian bandits in "Stand and Deliver," will be more than delighted with his impersonation of a young Argentine athlete and football player in his latest stellar vehicle, "Hold 'em Yale!" which will be on view at the Narberth Theater on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next.

The story of "Hold 'em Yale!" based on Owen Davis' famous stage success, "At Yale," deals with the son of a wealthy planter in Argentine, who foils a trio of bandits and later meets the daughter of a Yale professor traveling in Argentine. He decides to go to Yale and an interesting love romance develops, in the course of which he wins distinction as a college athlete. The action is said to be swift-moving and highly dramatic, the whole relieved by delightful comedy.

The supporting players are excellent. Jeanette Loff, who triumphed in "The Man Without a Face," "My Friend from India" and other recent screen productions, plays opposite Mr. La Rocque. Joseph Cawthorn, a veteran screen and stage player, is seen as a college professor, while Tom Kennedy, a noted comedian, has the role of a "goof" detective. Hugh Allan, who was seen to advantage in "Dress Parade," has a strong part.

Many of the Best People Go to Library for Mystery Stories.

If you like to read stories of crimes and murderous mysteries you are one of a very large and respectable company here in Narberth and throughout the land generally. The Narberth Library records indicate that the reading of such books is by no means confined to the light-minded, whoever they may be. It is well known that the late President Wilson turned to them for relief and relaxation and it has recently been stated that Herbert Hoover likewise reads them.

Of course, there are some people for whom the story is the thing regardless of literary ability of the author, but it is interesting to observe at the Narberth Library that those crime stories which are best written usually prove to be the most popular. The institution of the Crime Club within the past year has proved to be a great accommodation to all who like to read such stories, but who prefer, out of the great number continually published, to get those which are the best. The monthly selections of the Crime Club are always the best of the current offerings, and the Narberth Library always orders in advance the monthly Crime Club book just as soon as the selection becomes public.

The Crime Club book for August was "The Man Who Killed Fortesque," which was one of the best mystery stories that has come out this year. Even the oldest and most experienced crime-story fan is mystified by that plot until the very end. The September selection was "The Silk Stocking Murders," which though not quite so ingenious a plot, is well worth reading and has the advantage of a London locale which brings in the inspectors of Scotland Yard, who always seem like old friends to those who began their habits of crime with Sherlock Holmes and who still think that he was the greatest fiction detective ever created.

CONVENIENT CO-OPERATION CUTS COSTS FRIENDLY

Benjamin Franklin walked through the streets of Philadelphia alone, poor and friendless. Yet at forty he was independent; at fifty his company was eagerly sought by the leaders of two continents. His success was not a secret or something mysterious. It was nothing more than this:

Every day of his life he added a part of some other man's brains to his own. He picked a few great mind-building books and read them systematically a few minutes every day.

Time is money in your home. You have a few minutes each week after our special mention column circular arrives to devote to studying it. Will you increase your savings by adding the information that this page possesses to your own?

The terms "Rich" and "Poor" depend on the person to whom they are given. Some people can be rich on a few thousands of dollars, while others may be poor on many times as much. It all depends on how one uses the money he earns—and there is no reason why you or any one else cannot get enough wealth to live in comfort during the years to come when it becomes harder to throw all the energy you now have into work.

Just now we are featuring in the column unusual values, and we do not believe there is a single housewife who can afford to overlook the opportunity of securing them at prices listed each week. We handle, as you know, new goods and first-class merchandise in every respect, and then, of course, our first duty is to render service.

The new Buick is the new Style

If you want beauty—if you want luxury—if you want up-to-the-minute smartness—there's only one choice... the choice of America... the new BUICK with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher....

From one end of the country to another—in New York, in Miami, in Chicago, in Los Angeles and all towns between—overwhelming praise for the distinctive beauty of the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

All agree that here is a new style—a new mode—an entirely different and original interpretation of motor car beauty, forecasting the trend of smart body-design for months to come.

And all are voicing their approval in steadily mounting demand—a demand several times greater than the demand for any other automobile that makes even the slightest bid for comparison with this new Buick!

Thrilling new lines—graceful contours—gently rounded steel panels at sides and hood, the most expensive steel panel work employed on any automobile in the world—lend matchless charm and beauty to the Buick silhouette.

Vivid new colors—smartly-contrasting chrome-plated headlamps and cowl-lamps—striking new radiator, fender and bumper design—impart added dash and distinction.

And wonderful new interiors—with new adjustable front seats and full-width rear seats—new velvet mohair upholstery—and the most attractive hardware and fittings—all combine to form ensembles of rare and distinguished artistry. It's the new style—the new mode—in motor cars!

Around the Corner and Gone Forever

Not here today and gone tomorrow.

Not rushing into town grabbing all the business to be had and out again.

Not by extravagant talk and over-statements
forcing inferior merchandise on you.

Not dodging taxes, civic responsibilities and all
duties of citizenship.

Not a parasite. Not an insidious home town
destructionist.

Such only is the peddler, the canvasser, the self-styled traveling representative who comes at any hour, rings your doorbell, takes your money—and once around the corner—
is gone forever.

Compare that type with your local merchants
and business men.

The business men are here 365 days a year to serve you at your convenience to back up
the merchandise they sell to you, to share taxes and civic responsibilities, to help make the community happier and more prosperous, to rejoice in your joys, to be neigh-borly, to stand by you when in need.

The future of your community hinges absolutely on Community Loyalty from everyone of its citizens.

A Bouncing Child

One year ago, amid ceremonies that indicated the civic character of the event, the Narberth Theater opened its doors to "the largest throng ever seated under one roof in the borough." The inauguration of the new community playhouse was celebrated by speeches at the theater, a dinner given the owners at the Philadelphia Country Club, and, most important of all, by an immense outpouring of citizenry of the borough.

Next week is the first birthday of this community enterprise, for such it really is. It seems so much an integral part of the borough life at present that it is hard to realize its tender age. The owners, Messrs. Salas and Freed, are sparing no expense to give their patrons the very best in moving picture entertainment.

Nor is this enterprise one devoted solely to the aggrandizement of its proprietors. Many organizations in town are the possessors of fatter bank balances because of benefits which they have given in co-operation with the theater.

All in all Narberth may congratulate itself on the possession of such an attractive playhouse. In many people's unbiased opinion it is the most beautiful movie theater on the Main Line. And the type of pictures exhibited leaves little to be desired. Included in the bookings for the near future we understand are such films as "Siegfried," "Submarine" and "Caligari," surely a feast to whet the appetite of the most seasoned movie goer.

More About the

To the Editor of "Our Town,"

Narberth, Pa.

Dear Sir:
The columns of "Our Town" recently have given out many helpful hints for the voter, and it is with this view in mind I ask space for a few words.

There are many issues which are before us at this time, and one of great importance is prohibition, which is governing some in casting their ballots. As this is only a national issue, it should not be a governing point to offset the numerous international issues which will come before the one who is elected to go to the White House.

Nevertheless, some important information on the prohibition issue is very worth while knowing.

On August 22 in accepting the Democratic party's nomination, Governor Alfred E. Smith advocated the State control of alcohol as a substitute for prohibition, praising very highly the Canadian system and asserting that similar control in this country "would re-establish respect for law and terminate the agitation which has injected discord into the ranks of the great political parties."

It is in view of attempting State control under Governor Smith's plan, that I submit the following report:

I am not speaking as a member of the Anti-Saloon League, The Law Enforcement Order, or any such organization, but as a former Democratic voter. I understand the different liquor commissions and liquor boards are by State appointment.

JUST WHAT IS BEING
"CONTROLLED" BY LIQUOR
CONTROL IN CANADA?

NOT THE AMOUNT OF LIQUOR DRUNK, for Ontario is buying liquor at the rate of $1,000,000 a week.—Ontario Liquor Board. In Alberta 4,000,000 gallons of liquor sold in second year of "control"—Alberta Liquor Board. "Sales of beer increased 1,000,000 gallons over last year."—Quebec Liquor Commission. The seven provinces having "Government Control," with a population of 10,000,000, spend $160,000,000 a year for liquor.—Reports of the seven liquor control

NOT THE SALE OF HARD LIQUOR, for "since the opening of the beer parlors the sales of hard liquors increased 50 per cent."—British Columbia Liquor Board. Sale of hard spirits increased 32,275 gallons in one year.—Quebec Liquor Commission. Sale of hard liquor increased 33 per cent. in last two years.—Saskatchewan Liquor Board, 1927.

NOT THE NUMBER OF PERSONS DRINKING—Alberta issued 60,000 permits the first year; two years later she issued 144,000 permits.—Alberta Liquor Board. In Ontario 220,440 permits were issued in first four months.—Ontario Liquor Board. Drunkenness among women increased 53 per cent.—Montreal Star.

NOT DRUNKENNESS—"If all the drunks were arrested there would be no room for them in the jails."—Police Commissioner C. F. Burton, of Manitoba. "Arrests for drunkenness increased 125 per cent. in first eight months."—Saskatchewan Liquor Board. "All records for inebriates were broken today when 89 Labor Day celebrants faced Magistrate Cohen."—Toronto Star.

NOT BOOTLEGGING—"Our greatest problem is moonshine in the country districts."—Alberta Liquor Board. "Bootlegging increased 111 per cent. in first year."—Saskatchewan Liquor Board. "As much liquor is sold by bootleggers as is sold in the Government stores."—British Columbia Liquor Board.

Many Canadians are discovering instead of liquor being controlled by the Government, the Government is being controlled by liquor.—Buffalo Citizens' Committee of 10,000 for Law Enforcement.

SUZANNE JORET GILL

The FIRESIDE

Miss Adelaide R. Holcombe will be maid of honor for her sister, Miss Malvina K. Holcombe, whose marriage to Mr. Kenneth Conarroe Trotter, son of Mr. Lindley H. Trotter, of 203 Woodside avenue, will take place at 6 o'clock next Saturday. Miss Holcombe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Holcombe, of Cynwyd. Mr. William W. Walton, of Haverford, will be best man. The wedding will be held at the home of the bride's parents, and will be attended by the immediate families only. After a honeymoon trip Mr. Trotter and his bride will live at the Berkley Court, City Line, and will be at home after November 15.

Mr. Henry Allen, of Westville, N. Y., has returned to his home after a visit with his sister, Mrs. Carl W. White, of Narberth and Windsor avenues. Dr. and Mrs. White drove a party of friends over to Princeton last Saturday to see the Princeton-Virginia game.

The wedding of Miss Mary N. Lea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Langdon Lea, and Mr. Robert Holmes Page, Jr., took place Wednesday evening in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont. A reception for 400 guests was held afterwards at the home of the bride's parents on Wynnewood avenue, Wynnewood.

Mrs. E. S. Newman, of Lantwyn lane, entertained the members of her bridge club Tuesday evening at her home. There were eight guests.

Mrs. Lester Collier, of the Lakeview Apartments, will spend several days next week in New York city, as the guest of her sister.

Miss Elma Reese, of Hampden avenue, will spend this week-end in Glenside. Her mother, Mrs. G. H. Reese, will visit friends in Concordville, Pa., over the week-end.

Mrs. L. Fielding Howe, of Lantwyn lane, who underwent a major operation a few weeks ago, is improving very much and is expected to return to her home in about two weeks.

With the hunting season on, we hear of several lovers of the sport spending days in the wilds of Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Burnside, of Iona avenue, are spending several days this week hunting near Quakertown, Pa.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Paul Shea have returned from their honeymoon and are occupying their new home in the Baird Apartments. Mrs. Shea before her marriage was Miss Florence Nelson.

Harvey Cook and Charlie Funk, both of Essex avenue, went to Bucks county this week to shoot birds.

Ernest, Lou and Elmer Jenkins are expected to return this week-end with well-filled bags, after a few days of hunting near Huntington, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Goodwin and their young son moved this week from Forrest avenue to their new home in Wynnewood.

Miss Catherine Sexton has returned to her home on Iona avenue, following an appendicitis operation performed recently at the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Mrs. Arno Zillger, of Anthwyn road, and Mrs. M. B. Graham, of Philadelphia, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Clarence H. Woolmington, of 23 Narbrook Park, on Wednesday.

Miss Elizabeth Carpenter, of Baltimore, Md., is visiting her uncle, Mr. Orien Berry, and family, of 210 Hampden avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cochran and Mrs. G. H. Reese, of Hampden avenue, motored to Lakehurst last Sunday hoping to witness the arrival of the Zep.

Mrs. Floyd W. Woodcock, of Montgomery avenue, entertained at bridge on Wednesday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Robertson, Oliver Robertson and Miss Emily Dickson, of Sewickley, Pa., are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stackhouse, of Price avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John VanHofen, of the Baird Apartments, spent last week-end in Pittsburgh as guests of Mrs. VanHofen's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Downes, Jr., who have been on a trip through the middle west and returned by way of the Great Lakes to Buffalo, arrived home the end of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fellows Wood, of 237 Forrest avenue, are spending a few days in New York city over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Ludford and daughter, of Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. C. Armstrong, of Collingswood, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Smith were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward U. Smith, of 200 South Narberth avenue, last week-end.

Miss Virginia Smith has as her guest this week, Mr. Theodore Moore, who is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha at Penn State College.

Miss Elizabeth Terry, of Grayling avenue, was a guest at a house party in Ocean City, N. J., last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garfield Conpton, of Woodbine avenue, will celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary tomorrow.

Miss Sue Ewing, of Stuart avenue, sailed Wednesday on the S. S. Chatham for Jacksonville, Fla., where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. E. E. Larson, of Chicago, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Oakie Cook, of 122 Windsor avenue. Mrs. Larson was formerly Miss Audrey Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Russell Green, of 440 Woodbine avenue, spent last week-end in West Virginia. West Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Miss Lois Smith, of South Narberth avenue, spent last week-end in Atlantic City.

Mothers' Council Stages Enthusiastic Meeting

The Mothers' Council had a most interesting and enthusiastic meeting in the library at the school on Monday evening, October 15. The speaker was Miss Edith Everett, Supervisor of Counseling of the White-William Foundation of Philadelphia.

Her subject was "Co-operation Between Parents and Teachers," a topic of much interest to those in attendance. She told of the satisfactory results of counseling as obtained in many of the Philadelphia schools. The councilor, it seems, acts as a link between the home and school. She is often able to find out why children are not doing satisfactory school work and to find the remedy. The councilor is a good friend both to the school and to the home. Many interesting points were brought out in the most informal and enthusiastic discussion which followed.

Ten members of the Mothers' Council are in attendance at the State Congress of Parents and Teachers at Easton, which is in session from October 16 to 19, inclusive. Those attending are Miss Hoover, Mrs. Van Auker, Mrs. Sigel, Mrs. J. L. Miller, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Hankey and Mrs. Augst.

Change Name

The name of the Narberth Stamp Club was changed at its last meeting to the Harry S. New Stamp Club in honor of the present postmaster general. Officers elected at a recent meeting are: Eugene Claghorn, president; Victor Carson, vice president; Donald Monroe, treasurer; Charles Saiberg, secretary. Meetings are scheduled to be held every Friday night at the Presbyterian Church at 7:30 o'clock. All boys collecting stamps or autographs are invited and visitors are welcome.

To Hear Missionary's Wife

On Sunday evening, October 21, the Senior Luther League of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church will have as its speaker Mrs. A. F. A. Neudoerffer, whose husband has been a missionary to India for several years. Everyone is invited to this meeting at 6:45 P. M., which promises to be of unusual interest.

Polls Are Moved

Announcement was made this week by a county commissioner through J. W. McAuliffe, registry assessor, that the polls for the Second voting district had been moved from the second floor of the Narberth National Bank to 104 Essex avenue, Cook Brothers' store. The new polling place will be used first at the election on November 6.

Get Licenses

A marriage license was issued last Wednesday at Norristown to Joseph Scargill, Wset Manayunk Republican committee man and Dorothy Kirkpatrick, 52 Lauriste street, Philadelphia.

Other licenses granted at the county seat the same day were to: John P. Shea and Florence E. Nelson, both of Narberth, and Franklin H. Berry, Beach Haven, N. J., and Eleanor W. Lamon, Cynwyd.

Sale Is Thursday

Next Thursday, October 25, is the date of the rummage sale conducted by the Evangel Circle of King's Daughters. Any goods will be collected if Mrs. J. T. Darlington (Narberth 3952-W) is notified.

Gives Trees

The United States Government was the recipient this week of 1001 flowering crab trees, the gift of A. E. Wohler, local nurseryman. The trees, averaging from four to six years old, will be planted in a public park in Washington.

Preserving of Tax Receipts Made Easy

In connection with the payment of 1928 taxes, Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold stresses the importance of carefully preserving the tax receipts. In the resale of property received tax bills for the past five years are a very necessary part of the transaction.

Many people, the Tax Collector said, labor under the delusion that all that is necessary to do is ask the tax collector to write a letter saying their taxes have been paid. Unfortunately this is not the case, for trust companies require receipted tax bills as evidence.

As an aid to the preserving of tax receipts, the tax collector is providing heavy brown envelopes, which admirably fill the purpose of safeguarding the receipts and also serve to identify the elusive slips when placed in a safe deposit box.

All borough residents who pay their bills in person are presented with such an envelope, while those who pay by mail may obtain one by stopping at the Narberth National Bank.

Special Issue Announced

A special surcharged issue of two-cent stamps, "Molly Pitcher," commemorating the battle of Monmouth, was announced this week by the U. S. Post Office. They consist of regular two-cent stamps with the words "Molly Pitcher" stamped in black over them. Fifty thousand have been ordered by the local post office and will be on sale the first of the week.

The Ott boy was born in Cynwyd and was an orphan from early youth. At the beginning of the war he was making $8 a month as farm hand for a man by the name of Rhodes, who had the rental of Warner Robert's old farm. His schooling, like that of others of his time, was limited. It had partly been acquired in the old Lower Merion Academy, which still stands near the new Cynwyd School.

"Johnny" returned to the farm when he was mustered out and was soon making the large sum of $13 a month. Then he worked in a store in Merionville until he was ready to start in business for himself, delivering milk. He had his own tract of land by now, and a few cows and horses, and pails in which to carry the milk.

He prospered, and there came a day when he was the owner of a livery stable at Fortieth and Lancaster avenues, Philadelphia, and a 40-acre farm, extending along Lovering Mill road approximately from State road to Bryn Mawr avenue. It was through this land that he built, later on, Llanfair road, now known as Dedden road.

The land was brought in 1885 and parts of it were later sold to Colonel DeForrest Ballou, Harvey C. Irwin

Mr. Ott retired from business many years ago, but his reputation as a judge of good horses caused him to be called upon for expert advice for many years, until recently, when the infirmities of old age kept him confined to his home. He was an active church and lodge worker and an officer of the Lower Merion Society for the Prevention of Horse Stealing and the Detection of Horse Thieves, of which Luther C. Parsons, another pioneer Cynwyd resident, is president.

Cheltenham High Again Almost Trips L. M.—Adamites, Win Buy Only by a Point

To Keith Parks, recent addition to the varsity football ranks at Lower Merion High School, should go much of the credit for the victory of Coach Adams' forces at Cheltenham Friday afternoon. Keith was sent into the game to call the signals after Cheltenham had intercepted a pass near the middle of the field and converted it into an unexpected touchdown. He immediately started the team on an offensive drive that carried the ball across the final mark for Lower Merion's much needed touchdown. To cap this he called a difficult play a forward pass for the extra point, and with a magnificent effort he leaped into the air, in one corner of the end zone, and clutched the winning point between his red-jerseyed arms.

All of this happened in the first half of the game at Elkins Park, and what happened after that had no effect on the outcome of the game whatever, for the score remained Lower Merion, 7; Cheltenham, 6.

Lower Merion has always had a difficult time winning football games from Cheltenham High School. Five years ago, when Lower Merion had her heavy scoring combination with the Sculls, Peterson, Derham, Peabody and others who were defeating all other opponents by top heavy scores, along came an insignificant eleven from Cheltenham and held them to one measly touchdown.

Year after year, regardless of the merit of the Cheltenham High eleven, they make the matter of winning very difficult for Lower Merion. This was the case last week. Cheltenham had a good team on the field, a well-drilled aggregation which deserves credit for holding the invaders to such a low score, but one would have to stretch his imagination to think that they had as good a team as Lower Merion. Not in any department of play did they match the Moroon, though the fight was close and in doubt until the final whistle.

Collected Many Penalties.

Lower Merion made things difficult for herself by gathering numerous penalties. Penalties for illegal use of hands were numerous. These things must be ironed out if the boys expect to make full use of their power as a team. Four times in the second half, when they were in position to score, a 15-yard penalty was inflicted which carried them back impotent.

The game was highly interesting and exciting, and the closeness of the score increased the feeling of the crowd which was in a continual uproar of cheers and groans.

The individual work of the various players was satisfactory save in a few instances. One of these would have meant disaster had not Lower Merion recovered herself to score a touchdown and the extra point. This occurred when Mandes threw a pass into the outstretched arms of one of Cheltenham's backs, who immediately ran down the field for a touchdown. Mandes could have stopped this score had he left his feet for a tackle. This lapse of ambition he later made up for by taking the ball for good distances, and on one 29-yard run carried it over for the tying six points. He also threw the pass which Keith Parks converted into the winning point.

Lower Merion still has an undefeated team in 1928. Tomorrow it plays Haverford High School on the Montgomery avenue field in Ardmore, and it should win this game by two or three touchdowns if Peters, E. and A. Mandes, Kohlhas, Cave, McLaughlin, et al., not to forget Captain Elmore, can do all that is necessary with the pigskin. What is needed is a spirit throughout the four quarters of play which will show itself as it did in the second period of the Cheltenham game. Lower Merion must get rid of the idea that all it has to do is to step on the field and the game is its. The sub-ban teams are well-coached, well-manned and fully equipped to give plenty of punishment to any team which thinks all it has to do is present itself. Captain Bob Elmore should lead his team to another victory Saturday, but Coach Cornog, of Haverford, has his team primed for Bear.

MAJOR LISLE'S NEW BOOK FOR THE BOYS

Wayne Author's Latest Publication Has Local Background.

Captain James Stewart Montgomery, who recently published "Tall Men," and made a success of it, has reviewed "Lenape Trails," the latest work from the pen of the talented Major Clifton Lisle. The plot of the story is laid in this neighborhood. Therefore the book has a peculiar interest for local boys from 9 to 90. The review follows: "Lenape Trails, by Major Clifton Lisle (Harcourt, Brace & Co.) is one of the best books for boys I have met with since G. A. Henty—of blessed memory—laid by his pen. Need one or could one say more for a boy's book than that? It is the sort of book you buy for Johnny and dip into yourself all the way home on the 5.15. And then on arriving home you decide to finish it yourself and let Johnny wait. Patience is a virtue, especially in the young. And besides you have forgotten by now that Lenape Trails is a book intended primarily for Johnny. Yes, it's that kind of a book.

"Lenape Trails is a first-class, well-written and accurate historical novel told in a way to interest boys from 15 to 50 and as far above and below us as you care to go. It deals with the adventures of two Quaker lads who sail from England in the year 1724 and find a new home in Master William Penn's province of Pennsylvania, especially that part of it forming the county of Chester.

"Here they meet with adventure in plenty. And if there were no Indians out for their scalps—the Lenape, you will remember, were friendly towards Penn's colonists—there is a sufficiently villainous pirate, one Captain Lowe, to keep the heroes and the reader on the qui vive. So much for the story, which is, let me repeat, a thumping good yarn.

"But it is the background of the story that shows the author's real skill and painstaking labor. And it is a background that will linger in the reader's mind and become a part of his general culture. In most good books is it not their atmosphere that is the best and most permanent part of them?

"The atmosphere of Lenape Trails is convincing and undoubtedly a true picture of Philadelphia and its environs in the early eighteenth century. If the reader is a

FEDERATION WORK ON THE MAIN LINE

Chairmen of Committees to Direct Drive Beginning on October 22

With the slogan, "Spare Them a Share," welfare work on the Main Line is taking on its usual annual activity.

The Executive Committee announces that the following persons have indicated their willingness to serve on the Main Line for the Welfare Federation Drive, October 22 to November 2, inclusive, in the various districts from Overbrook to Paoli:

Overbrook—Dr. Frederick Fralley, chairman; Miss Anne J. Pugh, vice chairman.

S. Merion—Mrs. Oswald Smith, chairman.

N. Merion—Mrs. E. A. Shumway, chairman; Miss Florence McNeely, vice chairman; Mrs. H. S. Drinker, Jr., secretary.

Wynnewood—Mrs. Walter Clothier, chairman.

Ardmore—Richard J. Hamilton, chairman; Mrs. Nelson D. Warwick, vice chairman.

Haverford—Major John Lewis Evans, chairman; Mrs. Harrie F. Reed, vice chairman.

Bryn Mawr—Edward Woolman, chairman; H. H. Perry, vice chairman.

Rosemont—Charles Wilson, chairman.

Villanova—Rodney K. Merrick, chairman; Colonel William Innes Forbes, vice chairman.

Devon—Mrs. John Hampton Barnes, chairman; Mrs. John E. Cope Morton, secretary.

Gladwyn—Mrs. Griscorn Bettel, chairman.

Wynnefield—Frank M. Hardt, chairman; Clarence B. Lanning, vice chairman.

Last year 1000 volunteers joined the ranks of workers from Overbrook to Paoli to labor for the 128 agencies maintained by the Welfare Federation. It is hoped that many others will be inspired to join in this most important and vital work for the community and will make a living contribution to home charities by signing up for the campaign with the chairman who heads your district.

The Main Line advisory committee is as follows:

William P. Gest, Mrs. H. S. Jeanes, W. Logan MacCoy, Samuel Rea, William H. Hutt, Benjamin H. Ludlow, Mrs. C. C. Harrison, Jr., and Robert W. Lesley.

The officers of the executive committee are as follows:

Robert W. Lesley, chairman; W. Logan MacCoy, vice chairman; Miss Joan Woolaston, secretary.

Philadelphian or a commuter to the suburbs he will be intrigued as by a collection of old prints showing familiar localities as they once looked.

"But Philadelphian or not, the reader, if he has any love of woodcraft in him or the lure of nature, will revel in the forest adventures of young Tom Mayne and his cousin Peter. The author, who stands high in American Scouting and has been for many years connected with outdoor affairs, speaks here with all the authority of first-hand knowledge.

"If you have a son or a brother or nephew or next-door neighbor give him Lenape Trails, and incidentally read it yourself, for I don't know where you will get a better account of early Pennsylvania history so pleasingly administered." JAMES STUART MONTGOMERY.

Life of Ease Often Akin, Appel Says

"The other day a man picked up the paper and then pitied a silly fellow who, according to the news report, had seen fit to commit suicide. Yet this same criticizing gentleman is just as effectively, though of course much more deliberately and entirely unconsciously, shortening his life by inches," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health.

"He has made a lot of money. He consequently illogically imagines that because he has done so and is the possessor of a fine automobile and good chauffeur that he is required to use it exclusively in place of natural locomotion. True, it is easy going, but if his legs and other body muscles could talk they would undoubtedly tell him to use them a great deal more and the automobile a great deal less.

New Petition in Gladwyne Brings Old Name Controversy to Fore Again—Rea Says He Is Thru

Question as to whether Gladwyne should be known by its present designation, or as Merion Square, was brought to the fore this week again when a petition was circulated among residents there asking that the name Gladwyne be retained. This plea will be presented to the postal authorities at Washington.

Over 400 signatures have been secured, it was stated, and the claim was made that this represents about 95 per cent. of the patrons of the Gladwyne post office. Orion E. Kline, Gladwyne committeeman, was one of the signers on the list.

The controversy over a name for the community is one of long standing. It was last in the limelight over a year ago, when a group of property owners headed by Samuel Rea, former head of the Pennsylvania Railroad, circulated a petition requesting that the name be changed back to Merion Square, the original and more historically correct name of the community. This plea was fought by another group from the village which claimed that confusion in the delivery of mail between Merion Square, Merion and Upper Merion would result were the change made. This confusion was the chief reason for the switch to Gladwyne made by the postal authorities years ago.

Other reasons against the change given by the signers of the present petition is that of the inconvenience which would result from the changing of present letterings on trucks and store windows, and of stationery. Hope is expressed that the present effort will see an end of the name controversy and that the decision given this time on the naming of the community will be final and permanent.

Whether a second petition is being circulated this time requesting a change to Merion Square could not be learned. Samuel Rea, who led the group seeking the old name the last time the question was up, disclaimed any interest in the present movement this week.

"A petition requesting that the name be changed to Merion Square, signed by many of the property owners in this community, was circulated some time ago," Mr. Rea said Wednesday. "I presume this petition is still on file with the postal authorities at Washington as there has been no notification of action on it."

"Twas Side Stepped Politically"
"I am not interested in the matter any more. If the residents of the community do not want the old historic name of Merion Square, they can go along with the present one. I am through with it." The petition for the retention of Gladwyne as the name comes as the climax to a revival of the name controversy which took place recently when a new fire company was formed in the community. The group favoring the old designation was victorious in this tilt with the result that the new company was named the Merion Square Fire Company. Feeling was keen, however, and as a result many of the villagers vow that they will not support, financially, the new volunteer unit as long as it retains its present name.

While Gladwyne is the designation used by the post office department and the bus company which serves the community, it is pointed out that Merion Square also has its official supporters. Merion Square School is the title which the Lower Merion School Board has given to its building located in Gladwyne. Mention is also called to the fact, that, politically, the question has been side-stepped. Whether by accident or by design, the county commissioners, establishing a voting district for the community, named neither Gladwyne nor Merion Square by designating it as the "Upper District of Lower Merion."

Loyalty Becomes Community Asset
When All Work for Town's Interest

Did you ever consider what loyalty means to a community? Did you ever ask yourself the question and at the same time be fair and answer it to fully satisfy your own conscience? Are you convinced in your own mind that you are loyal to your neighborhood merchants?

In order for the continued growth of a certain community, it is necessary to have in that community one hundred per cent. loyalty on the part of the business interests and residents.

Putting the question to a merchant, he may say that loyalty is trading at home, buying from the neighborhood store exclusively. The same question put to a doctor may get the response that real loyalty is calling a community physician; to a lawyer, the appeal would be to patronize the home lawyer; the publisher may say that loyalty finds reflection in patronizing his printing plant and having all printing done at home, and, at the same time, advertise exclusively in his publication instead of through other channels which he is thoroughly convinced are not as effective. And the dentist would surely say: "To prove your loyalty, let me do your dental work."

These are, indeed, requirements for loyalty to a community, but there is still an element that does not enter into what we have been calling attention to. It is much larger than most people comprehend. For example, here is a professional or business man, or firm, as the case may be, operating in our community. He or they do not belong to, or contribute to any organization for the progress of this community and neighborhood. They make money here to invest elsewhere.

Is it loyalty to the community to patronize such men or firms? Do you consider it loyalty to assist the greedy person whose every effort is expended in sapping or devouring our community?

We should remember that it is a requisite of loyalty to support the men and business institutions who support our community and neighborhood, providing, of course, their business is honorable and that they themselves are law-abiding citizens.

To be more explicit, the citizen who sits back and takes in the coin and gives nothing or does nothing towards building up our community from which he gets it, it is not a good citizen and real loyalty on the part of the public here would demand that he be given a good rest cure until he wakes up and becomes a real booster, or else vacates his place and gives an opportunity for a live man who realizes he owes something to the community in which he lives and makes a livelihood.

When it is possible, trade at home or buy in your community, but when you do this trading and buying, keep uppermost in mind to patronize the merchant who is doing things for our community and not confining his efforts solely and selfishly to his own interests. In other words, give your support to those who labor with and contribute to all forces for the commercial progress and moral betterment of our community.

Narberth is just what we make it and co-operation is entirely essential upon the part of those who live here, if we are to make the proper progressive stride in this great country of ours.

Two to One

Six girls and but three boys comprise the latest nine additions to the population of Lower Merion and Narberth, as recorded at Ardmore by G. C. Anderson, registrar of vital statistics here. They are as follows:

Angelo, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Founte, 311 East County Line road, Ardmore, born September 29 at home.

Dorothy Cionci, 708 Railroad avenue, September 30, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cionci.

Elenora Cecilia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Laninger, River road, Gladwyne, September 26.

Filomena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arcadio Campli, 762 Railroad avenue, Bryn Mawr, September 24.

Albert N., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Morris Cherry, 98 Jefferson street, West Manayunk.

Rose Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Edward Young, 31 North Narberth avenue, Narberth, September 5.

Janet Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones Kenny, Ardmore, September 27, born in the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Richards, Barclay Farms, Rosemont, September 30, born in the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Ana Pilar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Graham, Gulf road, Bryn Mawr, September 23.

Eliminate Hazard

A driving hazard at Brighton and Haverford roads, Penn-Wynne, has been eliminated through the co-operation of Williams and Meloney, builders, according to announcement by the Keystone Automobile Club this week.

The club recently suggested to the builders that the embankment at this intersection be cut away to give motorists a chance to cross in safety. The suggestion was acted upon immediately.

Attendance to Date of 4164

O. K. SCHOOL MAGAZINE

Total enrollment in the Lower Merion public schools to date this term is 4164, according to the official figures submitted by Superintendent E. Edgar Downs to the Board of Education at its October meeting held Wednesday night in the Senior High School, Ardmore.

The enrollment is far above the 3882 total of the same time last year, and is 221 more than the figure of 3943 set September 10, when the schools opened their doors for the season. The Senior and Junior High Schools head the list with totals of 738 and 619 respectively. Merion Square and Bala are two lowest, with enrollments of 141 and 200 to date respectively.

Totals in other schools are as follows: Ardmore avenue, 593; Ashland, 452; Bryn Mawr, 446; Cynwyd, 366; Merion, 265, and Wynnewood road, 344.

"The average monthly attendance of both children and teachers has been especially good," Mr. Downs said. "Only 3 per cent. of our students have been absent, with little sickness and few absences for other causes." Four schools had attendance percentages of 98; Cynwyd was lowest with 93 per cent.

Approve School Magazine

Permission was given the Senior High School, of which Charles B. Pennypacker is principal, to publish a paper or bulletin. Requested by the students, the paper was recommended by Superintendent Downs, who told the directors of "its possible value to the students who participate."

The publication will be edited by the English Department and financed by the school. Students will secure subscriptions and advertising to pay for its publication. Four issues per year are contemplated.

Many routine matters were considered by the board, which celebrated its annual feast night with cider, cakes and fruit from President William Austin's farm in Rosemont.

Superintendent Downs' report follows in part:

"Following the appeal of President Coolidge for contributions toward the relief of storm and flood sufferers we gave the children of the schools the opportunity of assisting. The contributions submitted and transferred today to the Main Line and Schuylkill Divisions of the Red Cross are as follows:

Senior High School	$90.00
Junior High School	141.84
Ardmore Avenue	53.00
Ashland	40.00
Bala	50.00
Bryn Mawr	71.34
Cynwyd	143.00
Merion	108.05
Merion Square	20.21
Wynnewood Road	56.29

Total$773.73

"The Main Line Orchestra Association has asked the privilege of holding its four concerts this winter on suitable Monday evenings in our Junior High School auditorium. Tickets will be furnished as usual to subscription members, and to those in our schools most interested in music. No charge will be made at the door. I recommend that this privilege be granted without charge except for the usual janitor service.

"The township and county have completed the concrete work with curbing on Bala avenue from the Cynwyd Station to City Line. The new grade of this road with its curb makes it higher than our walk along a part of the lawn. As the water from our rain conductor runs under the walk, it is now impossible to secure satisfactory drainage to the street. This old walk is but four feet wide and has constantly given us trouble during bad weather and in the winter through the accumulation of water on it. Now that the whole road is paved permanently, Mr. Yocom and I, after inspecting this, decided to recommend that we advertise for bids to erect a new six-foot concrete walk the full length on Bala avenue. I so recommend."

Mr. Young, our janitor at the Bala School, has been compelled to resign because of permanent disability. The vacancy has been filled as of October 1 by the selection of C. W. Calvert, Jr., of Pencoyd. Mr. Calvert has had experience in work with builders and in the erection of furnaces, and is recommended by representative citizens.

"In accordance with the authorization of the Board contract was given to the Suburban Construction Company for the temporary repair and patching of School House Lane, of which repair work the School Board pays one-half and Mr. H. J. Haas the balance.

"Checks have been sent from the office of our secretary to the treasurers of our three township public libraries, and lists of the selected reading materials for the elementary, Junior, and Senior High School pupils have been furnished from this office to the local librarians with the request that they purchase, if possible, all of these books

MAIN LINE HAS ITS SLUMS, CLUB HEARS

Some Housing Along Pike Is Worse Than City's, Women Are Told.

POLITICS UP FOR TODAY

Slum conditions as well as improved housing on the Main Line were topics of Mrs. Harrie F. Reed, of Haverford, who represented the Community Health and Civic Association as speaker at the first regular fall meeting of the Woman's Club of Ardmore held last Friday afternoon at the club building on Ardmore avenue.

Mrs. Reed illustrated both good and bad conditions by means of photographs taken along the Main Line. Some of the worst housing arrangements, similar to city slums, were along the Lincoln Highway. Inner courts were shown where one outside hydrant served as the sole source of water for several families. The speaker also explained points of law requiring property owners to supply certain conveniences and make repairs to maintain livable quarters for their tenants. One instance was the law which now compels a landlord to connect his property with a sewer within 60 days after he is given notice.

At the close of Mrs. Reed's talk a general discussion of housing problems, both general and applying to the members of the club, was held. Questions concerning water in a cellar caused by building on a neighboring lot, and weeds on a vacant ground permitted to grow, an annoyance to nearby residents, were answered by the speaker, who indicated that owners who allowed conditions on their property to become a public nuisance could be forced to make necessary improvements.

The afternoon program, arranged by Mrs. Walter Rhodes and Mrs. Allen Miller, was preceded by a business meeting at which the President, Mrs. S. E. Slocum, presided.

The feature of today's meeting is a talk by Miss Martha Thomas on the political situation, with particular reference to the proposed State amendments which will be voted on at the coming election, also a demonstration of the voting machine.

Before the next business meeting, which is scheduled for Friday, November 2, the club will give a card party and fashion show at Strawbridge and Clothier's in Philadelphia on October 26. Tickets for this event are being handled by Mrs. W. A. Russ.

secure, as in no other way, a fair count. "Unless," she said in closing "We as women were more corrupt and contented than we were ever supposed to be, we should all work for the measures that seem of lasting good."

The resolutions that were passed at the convention were read by Mrs. Edwin Town and the resolution regarding the multi-lateral treaty and the cause and cure of war was put to a vote and passed by the club unanimously. Mrs. Farmer closed the meeting with Kipling's lines.

"It ain't the individual.

Or the army as a whole,
But the everlasting teamwork
Of individual soul."

That will make a successful year for the club, the president averred.

Plan Local Drive

Daniel Leitch, of Essex avenue, has again appointed Narberth chairman for the annual drive of the Welfare Federation, which extends this year from October 22 to November 2. Mr. Leitch is treasurer of the Merion Title and Trust Company.

The vice chairmen will be Fred-eric A. Egmire and E. H. Sickles. A corps of volunteers will assist these three men in raising Narberth's quota.

Although plans are being completed for the canvass, the local committee finds itself badly in need of workers so that the territory may be completely covered. Mr. Leitch has requested that any one willing to assist in the work communicate without delay with himself or one of the vice chairmen.

D. A. R. Makes Donation

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, N. S. D. A. R., met Saturday, October 13, at the home of Mrs. Joseph R. Aiken, 406 Essex avenue, Narberth, the regent, Mrs. Charles M. Irwin, presiding.

During the business session reports were heard from the various chairmen and a donation to the Caroline Scott Harrison memorial was made. It was also decided to purchase one thousand "Flag Codes" to be presented to school children.

Following the business an interesting program was given, honoring Mrs. Caroline Scott Harrison, who was the first president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. A social hour was then enjoyed and tea served by the hostess.

WINE RE-ELECTED TENNIS CLUB HEAD

Annual Meeting Last Friday
Featured by Election of Officers.

GOVERNORS CHOSEN

John Beerman Wine, of Shirley road, was re-elected president of the Narberth Tennis Association at its annual meeting last Friday night at the Narberth National Bank. This will be Mr. Wine's second year at the club's helm. He was preceded by W. P. Davies, who held the tiller for one year, and who succeeded W. D. R. Evans, president for many years in succession.

H. Ronald Paige, vice president for 1927-28, was succeeded by George McFadden, runner-up in the club tournament. William E. Hannum succeeds W. J. Sommer as secretary. A. C. Staples was re-elected treasurer of the association, a position he has held for several years.

Carl B. Metzger, former burgess, was elected to the Board of Directors, while Crone, Kairer and Sutcliffe were elected to the Board of Governors.

Two other organizations which began investigations of the drinking water following the Lower Merion warning were the Narberth borough and the Radnor township boards of health. Dr. George A. Sloan, head of the Narberth Board declared that up to Wednesday he had taken samples from only one of the two reservoirs of the Philadelphia-Suburban Water Company and there was "nothing to report yet." The Radnor Board, on the other hand, took samples early last week, and more later, gave the water company a clean bill of health on Wednesday, through Dr. Lemhardt, its hygienist.

The Radnor report has a bearing on the Lower Merion situation in view of statements made the past week by Carleton E. Davis, manager of the Philadelphia-Suburban Water Company. It was the general belief that Radnor gets its supply from a different water shed than the Lower Merion end of the Main Line. But Mr. Davis declared that "the two supplies come from practically the same source."

Radnor Tested.

Dr. Lemhardt, reporting for Radnor, stated this week that four samples taken by him of Radnor township last Monday and verified on Friday, showed a bacterial count of only from two to five per cubic centimeter and revealed no colon matter and no gas. This is a marked difference from the last Lower Merion health board tests which were reported to have shown a bacterial count of 164 per cubic centimeter.

"We have found nothing in our tests on which to issue a warning," said Dr. Lemhardt. "The water has passed all right."

"Some of the samples taken were from County Line which borders on Lower Merion and other analyses," he declared, "would be taken from the Rosemont section of Radnor township. Inspections of the water will go on as a matter of routine." Dr. Lemhardt said, "and more samples will be collected today."

The water question may be brought to an official close next week when both sides in the Lower Merion controversy will be heard from. On Monday night, a special meeting of the Township Board of Health will be held at the Lower Merion building in Ardmore. At that time Chemist Horn will report on further analyses of the water supply made since the last regular meeting of the Board on October 1, when it issued its warning.

On Tuesday night Manager Davis, of the Philadelphia-Suburban Water Company, is scheduled to speak at the monthly meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club in the Cynwyd fire hall, and is expected to give the water company's side of the matter.

The first of the Democratic mass meetings were staged last week in Bryn Mawr. Both were held at the Moose Hall there. The opening one on Thursday was under the chairmanship of George L. Brennan, committeeman from Bryn Mawr. The principal speakers were Louise Tallins, Esq., of Indiana, and F. A. Faber, of Philadelphia, both members of the speakers' bureau of the Philadelphia Citizen's Committee for Smith. There was a large attendance.

Talk of Three Headquarters. The second rally was held Saturday night under the auspices of the Garret Hill Smith-Robinson Club. In addition to speakers and singing there was a minstrel show.

Headquarters for the distribution of publicity for Governor Smith and his running mate, planned earlier by the Democratic committee, were opened Tuesday in a store at 20 East Lancaster avenue, Ardmore. Miss Alice Riera, Ardmore, who is one of the organizers of the Main Line women workers for Smith, was placed in charge. She will be assisted by volunteer workers in keeping the headquarters open throughout the day and the evening.

Other headquarters along the Main Line are planned. Mark McNally, committeeman for Haverford, made application to the committee last week for a Smith stand in his bailiwick. He proposed to open headquarters in the old Stuhldreher place on Lancaster pike, Haverford. Arrangements have not yet been completed.

Another link in the Main Line Democratic chain is proposed for Rosemont at a site yet to be chosen. This place will probably be operated by the Delaware County Democrats with Mrs. John M. Gallagher, prominent Radnor township worker for Smith, acting as supervisor.

The fourth weekly meeting of the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic Committee will be held tomorrow night at Ardmore again in the Merion Title building. The speaker, who will address the workers, will be Dr. Henry A. Bomberger, of South Ardmore. He was organizer of the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club.

The speaker at last week's meeting was C. B. Hunt, of the Philadelphia Smith Committee. There was an attendance of 100 committee men and Smith workers. This was double the number that attended the previous week's session and necessitated the use of a larger room.

Speaker Hunt, an ex-service man, deplored the religious issue which has been brought into the Presidential campaign.

"When we enlisted for the World War," he said, "we were asked no questions as to our religion. It was sufficient that we were willing to serve our country. It is asking for ordinary Americans fair play and decency that the same stand be taken as to candidates for political office."

Another speaker at the meeting was Charles S. Powell, Ardmore, who discussed the prohibition stand of Governor Smith. He told of a recent visit to Canada, during which he investigated the Dominion's handling of the liquor problem. He commended it as the most practical system of which he knew.

Mr. Powell, who is also chairman of the sub-committee on finance, told the Democrats that approximately $1500 would be needed to defray the committee's expenses for the Main soliciting donations would be sent out this week, he announced.

Richard J. Hamilton, Ardmore, banker and vice chairman of the Democrat Committee, stressed the need for having the polls in the 16 districts of Lower Merion and Narberth sufficiently manned by party workers on election day. This detail he took up further following the meeting when he heard reports from committee men on the progress of the Smith drive in their individual districts.

Sign of Best Meats

Speaking of Sausage

How many of us realize, when speaking of sausage, that there are many varieties available at Bradley's for every occasion and weather? It is probably the most flexible food that dietitians know—good for the coldest and warmest days, beloved of the most energetic and the most tired cook. At Bradley's, for instance, you can procure the following varieties:

Fresh Country Sausage, Scrap-ple, Vienna Loaf, Beef Bologna, Ham Bologna, Lebanon Bologna, Lunch Roll and Meat Loaf.

Avail yourself of this opportunity to deal at the best meat house in town. Don't take our word for this—try it.

Only NASH Offers—

Twin Ignition and Bijur and Houdaille

High Compression Motor

Centralized Chassis Lubrication

Hydraulic Shock Absorbers

PEOPLE everywhere are recognizing, in the new Nash "400," the only car at moderate price, with all the luxury and refinement heretofore furnished by very expensive motor cars.

There is nothing to compare with the performance of the new "400" Twin Ignition motor—the year's outstanding development in power, speed, smoothness and economy.

All "400" Advanced Six models, moreover, are equipped with the world's finest system of centralized chassis lubrication—Bijur.

And their longer wheelbases, double drop frames, rubber insulated bodies and costly Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers, provide travel smoothness and relaxation heretofore afforded only by very big, very expensive cars.
